

11-2010

WRL Newsletter November 2010

Maryke Barber
Hollins University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.hollins.edu/wrlnews>

Part of the Library and Information Science Commons

Recommended Citation

Barber, Maryke, "WRL Newsletter November 2010" (2010). WRL Newsletters. 19.
<https://digitalcommons.hollins.edu/wrlnews/19>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Wyndham Robertson Library at Hollins Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in WRL Newsletters by an authorized administrator of Hollins Digital Commons. For more information, please contact lvilelle@hollins.edu, millerjc@hollins.edu.

NOVEMBER 2010

WYNDHAM ROBERTSON LIBRARY NEWS

WWW.HOLLINS.EDU/LIBRARY

ILL EVEN EASIER

The next time you're using an EBSCO or CSA database, you'll find that placing inter-library loan requests is even easier with the new ILLiad auto-request service.

If the article you need isn't full-text, click on the "Hollins Journalfinder" link. This will check whether the journal might be available in one of our other databases, such as JSTOR. You'll get one of two results:

A: Title match found: Click on the "Online Access" icon and check the date of your article against the available dates. If it matches, click through for access.

No date match? If your article is from a year for which

Journal Title	Source	Full-Text Begins	Full-Text Ends
Music and Letters	Project Muse - Premium	1/1/2004
Music and Letters	JSTOR - Arts and Sciences 3	1/1/1920	11/30/2001

there isn't full-text, use your back button to return to the icon menu and click on the "ILL" envelope. Sign into your ILLiad account, and the form for requesting your article is already filled out — just click submit and you're done!

B: Hollins does not subscribe: Click on the link to "Request this article through inter-library loan." Sign into your ILLiad account, and the form for request is already filled out! View a demo: <http://tinyurl.com/26yovab>

Photo Courtesy of Tony the Misfit under Creative Commons License, Flickr.com

ELIZABETH STROUT READING

Bestselling author Elizabeth Strout will read from her work on Thursday, Dec. 2, at 8 p.m. in the Wetherill Visual Arts Center Auditorium. A reception will follow.

There will also be a Craft Q&A Friday, Dec. 3, from 11 a.m.— 12 noon in the Hollins Room of the Wyndham Robertson Library.

Elizabeth Strout spent nearly seven years writing her first novel while juggling family obligations and her teaching career. The result, Amy and Isabelle, was published in 1998 to wide acclaim and went on to become a New York Times bestseller.

See continuation on pg. 2 for rest of "Strout Reading"

MEET CHERYL SPENCE

If you've ever spent a late night at the library, you've probably come across Cheryl at the reference desk. Cheryl began working as a reference assistant in the library in September. She graduated from the University of North Texas in 2001 with an M.S. degree in library science. She has been working in public libraries for 15 years. Her first experience working in a library was in 1992 as a student worker in college, and she has been in libraries ever since.

Q: What is the most interesting question you've been asked at the reference desk? (See continuation on pg. 2)

MORE LIBRARY NEWS

NOVEMBER 2010 - PAGE 2

MOVIES AT THE LIBRARY

The Amish and Us

Sun. Dec. 5 , 2:00 pm. Introduced by Prof. Jon Bohland.

Last year 4.5 million tourists visited Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, to observe the Amish way of life. The money these visitors spend on quilts, lawn ornaments, wooden toys, baked goods and other Amish-made products is a boon to Amish families that can no longer make a living on farming alone. At the same time, the revenue brought by the tourist trade and the constant contact with outsiders threatens to erode the traditional values that are the foundation of the Amish way of life; community decision making, simple living and quiet non-conformity.

The Amish and Us is an engaging and witty one-hour documentary examining this threat and other pressures on the Amish community in Lancaster County.

To find out more about the "Now at the Library" series, contact librarian Maryke Barber at 362-6328 or mbarber@hollins.edu.

UNCOMMON COLLECTIONS: RECENT ACQUISITIONS IN SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

Ever want to know what's in Special Collections? Here's your chance to see a sampling! Come by the display case on the third floor of the library, near the Hollins Room, and check out the latest exhibit.

EXTENDED HOURS DURING EXAM WEEK

Dec. 5: noon—2 a.m.

Dec. 6-9: 8 a.m.—2 a.m.

Dec. 10: 8 a.m.—open all night

Dec. 11: — 2 a.m.

Dec. 12: noon—2 a.m.

Dec. 13: 8 a.m. — 2 a.m.

*Free snacks and coffee will also be available in the evenings during exam week.

Sponsored by Student Services

ELIZABETH STROUT READING CONTINUED

Six years later she published Abide with Me, which was a national bestseller. In 2009, her third book, Olive Kitteridge, a novel in stories, won the Pulitzer Prize, was nominated for the National Book Critics Circle Award, and also became a bestseller.

Beanstalk Readings are brought to you by the Beanstalk Fund, a joint venture of the Creative Writing Program and the Wyndham Robertson Library to bring writers and readers together at Hollins University.

MEET CHERYL SPENCE CONTINUED

A: Well, the funniest was from a patron who sent me a cartoon picture and asked me "What kind of bird is this?" *

Q: What is your favorite thing about working here at Hollins?

A: Probably people who actually come in to use the library! But I really like the Horizon students — they're fun. I like you guys, too, of course! But I feel more useful to them because it's been 15 years since they've taken a test. I love that they came back. I admire that... and they come in at these weird hours!

Q: What do you like to read?

A: I like to read fiction fluff. I read one fiction and one non-fiction at a time. Right now, I'm reading The Particular Sadness of Lemon Cake by Aimee Bender and The Power of Kindness: The Unexpected Benefits of Leading a Compassionate Life by Piero Ferrucci. It takes me longer to read the non-fiction because there's so much more to absorb... you have to pay more attention.

*Editor's note: all reference questions are confidential. Occasionally librarians will share topics they've been asked about at reference for training purposes. This example is shared with permission from the patron.

The cartoon, from Markus Zusak's bestselling The Book Thief, shows a character who draws himself as a bird. After consulting a bird encyclopedia and comparing many species, client and librarian came to a consensus: it's a dove....we think. Just another night at the reference desk!