FOREST OF ARDEN IS SCENE OF CARNIVAL

With the arrival of spring comes the carnival season, so in due style Hollins is holding its annual Carnival in the Forest of Arden at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The program planned is a full one and should offer amusement for all.

Among the attractions listed are bingo, roulette, fortune telling, bicycle riding, sketching by Mary Adams Holmes and Tim Brown, movies of campus events in the gym and a mock trial. Supper is to be served from 6 o'clock on, and from 7 to 9 o'clock a new feature will be added: namely, check dancing in the gym with music by a good orchestra. This latter is a novel idea on campus and should prove enjoyable to all.

The price of admission is twenty-five cents, which includes admission to the Horse Show, and no one will be admitted to either or both without a ticket.

Everyone is urged to come and join in the fun—there will be plenty of it—and don't forget it's all for the Endowment!

Sue Rutherford, Eleanor Bray, Janet Stirling and Dorothy Perkins are in charge of all arrangements.

New Officers of Student Council are Installed

On Wednesday evening, May 6th, the officers of the Student Government Association of Hollins College for the year 1931-32 were installed. The reading of the minutes of the last meeting on September 19th preceded the ceremony. The President of the Association, Jessie Pollard, then addressed the Student Body and Faculty. She recalled the changes that have taken place during this session, and while recognizing these improvements, suggested two things which should be cherished and preserved. First, the honor system must be retained, improved and revitalized. To do this the student must realize her responsibilities to Student Government and to herself, so that future violations of the rules will be unintentional and self-reported. Secondly, the relation between the Student Body, the Faculty and the administration must be encouraged. Stressing the principles which such relations give the student, the President outlined several ways by which appreciation may be shown—chiefly by cooperation in the preparation for post-holiday classes. In closing, the President paid an especial tribute to Miss Williamson for her understanding and gracious cooperation.

Miss Pollard then presented the gavel to Leonora Alexander, expressing confidence in the strength and freshness of the new Council. In a few words the incoming President suggested the need for a self government rather than a Student Government, saying that only through strict adherence to the interpretations of the rules made by the Student Council and the use of the double reporting system could this, the primary aim of a Student Government, be achieved.

Cups and Ribbons to be Awarded the Winners

The first Horse Show ever given at Hollins College will take place in the new ring behind the gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock to-day.

The scheduled order of events are:
1. Opening Drill.
2. Walk, Trot, Canter—Class A.
4. Walk, Trot, Canter—Class B.
5. Outside—Five-gaited.
6. Walk, Trot, Canter—Class C.
7. Jumping—Not exceeding 3 feet.
8. Outside—Walk, Trot, Canter.
12. Wheelbarrow Race.

Following these events, cups and ribbons given by individuals and firms in Roanoke will be awarded to the winners. The judges are Captains Richard A. Ware and Major J. B. Walbach, with Joseph A. Turner acting in the capacity of Ring Master.

Riding has become so popular on campus lately that we cannot help looking forward to our first Horse Show with great anticipation and interest.
The past week, May 4th, has offered a variety of activities for those interested in college life. The students and faculty have been attending the spring sports and tournaments, and some have been participating in individual tennis matches Saturday. The Horse Show, which took place Friday, May 5th, brought in a good crowd of people who enjoyed the equestrian events. The Women’s Tennis Team, who brought home a large number of awards, had a great deal of fun playing this spring.

HOLLINS STUDENT LIFE, MAY 9, 1931

 Isn't it nice to see Marjorie Roers and Patty Porter back on campus after their long stage of scarlet fever? A hearty welcome and the best of health to them!

Just about nine days until exams are in full swing! Appalling, isn't it? But afterwards—commencement and vacation.

Drawing for rooms next week also beseaps the end of the year. It's a relief, too, now that the semester is over. Whether the new occupant is more or less attractive than the old one is a matter of time and good fortune.

The Spinner Staff is really to be congratulated on the annuals which we were so thrilled to get on May Day. They are especially good this year and the silhouette idea is particularly clever. The Juniors can certainly appreciate the one of Mary Adams Holmes—it's so suggestive of a certain never-to-be-forgotten day in April.

No one who attended the waiters' entertainment can possibly forget the songs and dances. But most memorable were Carter's blind trousers. However, there was mystery attached to the invisibility of his mustache—the color on the path!

We (editorially speaking) aged some twenty-several odd years on Saturday. The Aprilish whims annointed us no end and it was a question of great import all day as to whether it should be shinny or slicker. May Day or no May Day. However, the "Powers-that-be" heard our frantic appeals. Thank you, Powers.

And speaking of devotion (we weren't but that doesn't matter), did you hear the latest? They came from Florida, Atlanta, Cincinnati, and I couldn't go on about them. Each of the forty-eight states must have sent a delegate to our May Day exercises, or near it to May Day (sumble). Nevertheless, it was all very exciting and a brief and enjoyable change.

Considering the beauty of the Seniors' May baskets, the garden's look as depleted as one would expect. Perhaps Fallons or Kimmings saved them.

The spring season has brought out even the daffodils that most of us witnessed May Day, or so the Outing Club tells us. For Sunday three Hollins-head water sprites went swimming in the falls on the all-day hike.

And speaking of woodland dieties, we have heard our frantic calls, and the Sleeping Beauty, the Fates, and the "Witches" saved them.
