Procrastination is the thief of time; year after year it steals till all are fled, and to the mercies of a moment leaves the vast concerns of an eternal scene.—Young.

The Eighty-Ninth Commencement of Hollins College will be held the week-end beginning May 28th. The four days comprising Commencement: Alumnæ Day, Baccalaureate Sunday, Senior Day and Commencement, are filled with varied activities. In a little over two weeks the Class of '32 will make its final bow to undergraduate life and pass into the ranks of Alumnæ.

Hollins is looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to the home-coming of a great many of her former students. On Friday evening, May 27, a meeting of the Alumnæ Board of Directors is planned. The next morning at 10 o'clock the Conference of the Alumnæ Association will be held with Mrs. Morgan (Kitty Settle) presiding. Dinny Rath and Dean Webb, '30, will be in charge of the recreation in the afternoon at which time the swimming pool and the tennis courts will be at the disposal of the Alumnæ. In addition, an exhibition of the different types of athletics is being planned by the students. At 4 o'clock, Miss Matty and the faculty will hold a reception at "Eastnor," the President's home. Following this, a buffet supper will be served in the Kellar at 6 P. M. with Marjorie Fort, '28, acting as toastmistress. The commencement play, Lilies of the Field, by John H. Turner, will be held in the Little Theatre at 8:30.

On Sunday, May 29th, the Y. W. C. A. will hold its Devotional Service at 12:30, in the chapel. That evening at 7 the Vesper Services will be in the Forest of Arden. Hollins has been most fortunate in securing Rev. Frank C. Morgan, D. D., of Augusta, Georgia., to deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon at 8 P. M. in the chapel. Dr. Morgan, who is the son of the noted G. Campbell Morgan, an English preacher and author recently gave up his pastorate in the First Presbyterian Church of Augusta in order that he might devote all of his time to lecturing, writing and teaching. He has achieved a wide reputation for his analytical mind, great spiritual insight and dramatic delivery, and Hollins is looking forward to an inspiring and uplifting Baccalaureate Address.

The Senior Day activities, which embody the traditions of the graduating class, will begin with the Class Day Exercises at 10:30 A. M. Monday, May 30th, in the garden. The Senior Class will at this time present twelve flowering crab trees to the College. At 4:30 that afternoon the Senior Garden Party will be given in the Forest of Arden in honor of the Seniors and their parents. The Commencement Concert is scheduled to be presented at 8:30 in the chapel, by the music Students. At 9 o'clock the Senior Bonfire will take place in the Little Theatre. At this time the Sophomore Class will present their sister class with the traditional daisy chain with which the Seniors will form their numerals on the quadrangle. The final event of the day is the Senior Banquet at 10 o'clock.

Then Tuesday, May 31st, at 10 A. M. at the Commencement Exercises, in the Little Theatre, Professor Christian Gauss, Dean of Princeton University, will deliver the address. Hollins is very proud to have him as its speaker. Throughout his career Professor Gauss has had

New Student Council Goes Into Office

On Wednesday, May 4th, Convocation was devoted to the installation of the new Student Council. Leonora Alexander, the outgoing president of Student Government, presented the gavel to Katherine Mann, the incoming president, after a short address.

In it, Miss Alexander once more recalled to the minds of the student body the chief "planks in her platform" announced at the beginning of this session: To realize both the importance of self-government within Student Government and the necessity of becoming nationally, politically and internationally minded. It is difficult to decide whether or not the past year has been successful in terms of Student Government, she stated, as it is necessary to view a year either from the past or in anticipation of the future. The memory of the Council of '31-'32, however, and the seeds of the ideas and ideals introduced by them will serve as a stimulus and incentive to the incoming Council, she believes.

On behalf of her Council, Miss Mann expressed her appreciation and deep admiration for all the retiring Council had accomplished, and the hope that they would be able to carry on the work and fulfill the present ideals of Student Government. She continued by saying that each individual is a link in the chain of Student Government, and, because of this, the importance of individual responsibility in strengthening the chain is very great.

Students come to college to seek happiness, and "Student Government is a medium of expression through which to find the final happiness that comes from inward growth," the incoming president stated of the two aspects of Student Government, the external embodies the social and campus regulations while the internal embodies the Honor System, without which the first is meaningless. Miss Mann emphasized the fact that it is only the ability to find freedom and happiness within what seem to be restrictions that success may be attained. "The student body holds the potentiality for living in peace and happiness together, and Student Government is the realization of this potentiality if it is allowed to develop." In closing, Miss Mann said: "We must widen our point of view and gain a perspective so that we may see life steadily and see it whole. This next year let us make Student Government mean something vital and real, not an empty mockery of words."

Page Rudd to Attend Junior Month

At the last Student Government meeting, Ted Tidwell announced for the Junior Month Committee that Page Rudd had been chosen as delegate to Baltimore this July with Rosamond Larmour as first alternate. Eight southern colleges are to participate in this experiment and Hollins is proud to have Page as its representative.

STUDENT LIFE takes great pleasure in announcing the plans submitted by a joint faculty and Alumnae Committee for raising scholarships and loan funds to assist students in obtaining an education at Hollins. The emphasis in Alumnae work has been changed from the Endowment to this field with a view to relieving both the College and deserving students in times of stress. As a result of this move, benefits should accrue to all concerned. The Alumnae will have a more definite bond of interest with Hollins when they sponsor a girl from their own community here, the girl herself will enjoy all the cultural and academic advantages of college life, while the administration will derive the satisfaction of having more and better students.

For these reasons, therefore, it is hoped that the very hearty support of all those from whom it is needed will make one of these plans possible. Both are so arranged that the burden will not fall heavily on any particular person, but this very fact implies strongly the necessity of individual responsibility. Surely, there could be no finer purpose for which to solicit aid.

PLANS FOR SCHOLARSHIP FUNDS TO BE SUBMITTED

When the Hollins Alumnae Council met on the week-end of Founder's Day, it was decided that the emphasis of effort should be changed for the present from the Endowment to the establishment of scholarship funds. At an open Council meeting there was a great deal of discussion about methods for establishing definite working plans. Mrs. Annie Moomaw Schmelz appointed a committee which included Mrs. McConkey and Miss Dorothy Towles of Roanoke, Miss Josephine Hancox of Norfolk, Mrs. Joseph Speed of North Carolina, and Dr. E. Marion Smith of the Hollins Faculty as Chairman. This Committee has met several times and has drawn up two plans for establishing scholarship and loan funds.

In the first plan, Chapters of Alumnae will be formed to maintain scholarships, which will be held by a local student, selected on standards of academic standing. The Committee advises that each chapter cover as nearly as possible the student's expenses for four years. The reason for this being that the local group will gain interest during such a period of time in the student as an individual.

The second plan is to ask the Alumnae to contribute to a general fund to be kept by the Alumnae Treasury and to be administered by the Alumnae officers at the advice of the faculty. To raise this fund it is suggested that each Alumna contribute five dollars each year, or one dollar for each year which has elapsed since she left Hollins and one dollar each year in the future. The purpose of this fund will be to aid

STUDENT FORUM

Although we of Hollins realize and appreciate the many improvements which have been made this year, we would suggest still one more. Would not lights at the gates be a valuable addition to the Improvement Campaign? Since the gates have been moved they have come into greater prominence but only by day. Did you ever try to find your way in at night? If it is hard for us who have been here several years it must be even more so for strangers. Commencement brings many guests who will see Hollins for the first time. Let us, therefore, light our gates and thereby maintain the standards of Hollins hospitality.

worthy students who find themselves financially unable to finish their college education. This fund will be divided into two parts. The first will be used as scholarships to suit the needs of worthwhile girls. The second part will go to establish a loan fund. From this a student may borrow during her College career $500 at two per cent. interest. She may obtain on request as much as an additional $500 at three per cent. interest. It is hoped that all such loans will be completely repaid in five years after graduation from College, that the interest will be paid annually and the principle reduced as often as possible.

These are the plans which the Committee will present to the Alumnae at Commencement time. In the face of this year's depression, the amount of money raised during the summer will be placed at the disposal of next year's students, but the total sum available at that time will depend on the response of the Alumnae during the summer months. The Committee sincerely hopes that these plans will meet with the favor of the Alumnae and that the way will be thus opened to the establishment of a foundation of scholarships and loans.

Sinking Fund Given to Scholarship Fund

On the night of May 3d at the Student Government meeting Leonora Alexander announced that part of the Sinking Fund was to be turned over to a Scholarship Fund to be handled by the Administration. This will go either to students already on campus or to students seeking entrance next year with a high recommendation. The Administration will also decide whether this will be used as a Scholarship or Loan Fund.

At the same time that this money was voted for scholarships, Council also decided to give one hundred dollars to STUDENT LIFE for the purchase of a desk, a typewriter and style books; forty-eight dollars to the Dramatic Association for lights; ten dollars to N. S. F. A. to help with the expenses of the Central Office, and one hundred dollars to be left in the bank during the summer in case of any emergency which might arise in the fall. Fifty-five dollars had already been voted to send Leonora Alexander to the S. I. A. S. G. Conference in the spring. In addition to this it was decided to permit Cargoes to keep its balance from this year for the purchase of a typewriter; to permit the Music Association to keep its balance for the purchase of a rug and chairs for the Music Room; and to permit the Y. W. C. A. to keep its balance for the payment of their pledge to Blue Ridge.

The total Sinking Fund was $1,341.53. Of that, $500.00 went to the Cabin; $528.53 to the Scholarship Fund and $258.00 to organization on campus. The funds the Music Board, Cargoes, and the Y. W. C. A. were allowed to keep amounted to $188.00.

Senior Forum Discussion Prepares Future Alumnae

In view of the coming responsibility of Alumnae membership, the subject of the last Senior Forum, held April 29th, was Alumnae Relations.

At this time Mrs. Ruth Crupper Reeves, Alumnae Executive Secretary at Hollins, gave an informal address. She explained the work and the organization of the Alumnae office and encouraged the Seniors either to join their home Alumnae Chapters after graduation, or to form new Chapters if there were none. She also urged the Seniors to keep their class organization for projects and reunions in the future.

Following Mrs. Reeves' talk the Seniors discussed ways that her suggestions might be carried out. In order that class organization be kept, the members formed seven different districts, according to geographic distributions. District No. I includes New York, Massachusetts and New Jersey. The members of this district are: Margaret Brown, Betty Cole (Chairman), Josephine Landes, Nancy Long, Sylvia Susseles, Betty Taylor, and Flora Witt. District No. II, including Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware and District of Columbia, has as its members: Beverly Chalker, Katherine Dilworth, Katherine Schmidt, Janet Stirling (Chairman), and Jane Sutherland. The members of District No. III, Virginia, are: Camille Dawson, Marjorie Einstein, Elizabeth Fooshé (Chairman), Mary Coleman Hankins, Mary Cornelia Hankins, Martha High, Ruth Johnson, Kathryn Jordan, Catherine King, Marie Manley, Frances Meers, Mary Ruggles Nelson, Elizabeth Rice, Betty Robinson, Lucy Robinson, Dorothy Sorg, and Mary Watkins. District No. IV, North Carolina, includes: Mary Creech (Chairman), Leah Jones, Margaret Sockwell, Mary Watson. The members of District No. V, Georgia and Florida are: Alfreda De Vaughn, Helen Flournoy, Martha Huguley, Julia Lamar, Mary Alice McConnell (Chairman), Ted Tidwell and Catherine Witschen. In District No. VI, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee are: Leonora Alexander (Chairman), Jeannette Bauer, Eleanor Burwell, Jane Folk, Jane Offutt and Elizabeth Waring. District No. VII, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Texas, has as its members: Victoria Fitzgerald (Chairman), Norma Foy, Margaret Nabors, Esther Shoup, and Miss Sanders.

This district organization will afford a close network for all projects that the Class of '32 will wish to undertake in the future. An Alumnae representative will be elected to represent the Class in Alumnae meetings. She will also keep in touch with the Chairman of each district, who will inform the members of her district of any plans. The Chairman of each district, in turn, will be expected to acquaint the Alumnae representative with any work her district is doing. Further plans for Alumnae work are being formulated.

Garden Club Members to Picnic at Hollins

The Garden Club of Virginia will be entertained May 19th, by the Roanoke Valley Garden Club at a picnic lunch in the Lucy Preston Beale Memorial Garden. Composed of the representatives of twenty-three clubs throughout the State, this organization is visiting many famous Old Dominion Gardens, and after the lunch at Hollins will be shown through those in and around Roanoke and Salem. The conference could not have taken place at a more opportune time for Hollins as the garden will be at its height of bloom the last weeks of May.

The College appreciates greatly the honor of having been chosen as a site for the entertainment of these guests and hopes they will enjoy their visit here.

Villagers dancing about the May Pole: Carey Kurth, Martha Tompkins, Jane Moon, Susan Wood, Miriam Fleming, Barbara Van Dyke, Julia Lamar, Anne Waring, Margaret Sockwell, Mary Watson, Elizabeth Heminway, Betty Brede.

The Queen, May Ruggles Nelson beside her throne

Guard and prisoners: Marguerite Harwell, Eleanor Cadbury, Dorothy Sorg, Janet Stirling.

The Queen and her lover: May Ruggles Nelson and Dorothy Sorg

The Mummies: Victoria Fitzgerald, Eleanor Webb and Anne Taylor, indulge in a bit of merriment in true old English style.

May Day Celebrated in Forest of Arden

With May Ruggles Nelson as Queen, May Day was presented this year in the manner of an old English festival. The Forest of Arden formed a charming "Merry Isle" where many events of interest took place. They were summarized thus:

"A Queen secretly meets her peasant lover in the palace garden. He brings her the village people's request that she be their Queen of the May Festival on the following day. While pretending a coronation in anticipation of the Festival, the Counselor of State and his lords approach. The Queen escapes unseen, but the lover is taken prisoner.

"The villagers gather for the May celebration. Their hilarity increases at the punishment of three court prisoners, one of whom is the lover. All this, however, is abandoned at the entrance of the Queen and her court. During the festivities, the Queen searches in vain for her lover. Finally, concealing her own disappointment, she holds court, promising, according to tradition, to grant all requests made on that day. A little village maid begs for the release of the prisoners. The Queen, recalling her own longing for happiness on that glorious day, but not knowing her lover to be one of the prisoners, grants the plea. In finding her lover, she becomes, indeed, a Queen of a joyous day.

In the court were Margaret Brown, Camille Dawson, Esther Shoup, May Gilmore, Katherine Mann, Catherine Witschen, Lucy Robinson, Caroline Huffard and Martha Huguley.

Administration Announces Plans for Commencement

very much experience with students and his attitude toward them is one of sympathy and understanding, so it is with a great deal of eagerness that we await his address. With the presentation of the diplomas and the conferring of degrees by Miss Matty, the commencement program of the Class of '32 will be concluded.

Peyton University Crowns May Queen

Peyton University, true to tradition, went to the woods early this morning to crown its queen and returned to campus before the first triangle. The gay procession led by the May Queen, Rosa Fletcher of Lexington, Virginia, and her Court composed of Esten Cook of Lexington, Virginia, Lewis La Mar Janney and Albert Kirven Cocke, wound its way across the quadrangle to the shrubbery in front of the library. There, as many sleepy eyed but interested girls and proud parents gathered, these talented youngsters presented a fresh entertaining little play, "The Nixie Pixie Folk," written by Dorothy Sorg, '32, and directed by Miss Bessie Peyton, founder and faculty of the famous University bearing her name.

The play opened with Albert Cocke, who took the part of Brownie, rollicking in the green forest, and anxiously awaiting the arrival of his playmates Peter, (Lewis La Mar), and Jane (Esten Cook), whom he tearfully prayed might not have grown too old to frolic with him. Happily for Brownie, the appearance of these little folk who eagerly beg to see the May Queen, reassure him. After much pleading, dancing, and singing of songs, Brownie was finally persuaded to disclose the Queen, regal on her flowery throne. As the play drew to a close, the courtiers rushed out into the audience making them sing "Little Nixie Pixie Folk" while they all bore boughs before the throne. When the three sharp notes of the triangle sounded across the campus, the Queen and her Court departed singing May songs.

Dickie Robertson, ex-'34, was on campus for May Day.

Jay Offut visited friends in Charlottesville for several days.

Marie Manley spent last week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Mrs. Roland H. Mann was on campus visiting her daughter, Kay.

Mrs. A. R. Nelson visited her daughter, May Ruggles, for May Day.

Marguerite Willard was the guest of Mrs. John Hurt of Hollins recently.

Mr. Robert M. Masters is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Turner.

Winifred Goodman, of Mary-Baldwin, recently visited her sister Eloise.

Helen Fleming went to Alexandria recently to attend a dance at Episcopal High.

Betty Taylor visited her grandmother in Leaksville, North Carolina last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Wood, of Sterling, Illinois, visited their daughter Sue last week-end.

Bobbie Hunt Burton, '28, of Reidsville, North Carolina was on campus for the Horse Show.

Henrietta Worsley attended a dance given by the Medical School in Charlottesville last week-end.

Elizabeth Young, Mary Macon, Rowena Doolan were in Charlottesville for the Virginia Players' dance.

Alice Neal and Healan Brown, of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, were the guests of Esther Shoup last week-end.

Bettina Rollins will represent New Hampshire as a princess at the Apple Blossom Festival at Winchester this week.

Miss Margaret Boyne, of Tunbridge Wells, England, was the guest of her great aunt, Miss Marion Boyne for several days.

Mr. Charles Schmidt and Ernestine Schmidt, 'ex-32, of Baltimore visited Kay for the Horse Show and returned for May Day.

Emy Lou Wilson spent last week-end in Roanoke as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Stephenson at their home "Fairacres."

Among the guests who were on campus for May Day were Nancy Wilson, '30, of Spartansburg, South Carolina, Sue Rutherford, '30, of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, Elizabeth Snyder, '31, of Toledo, Ohio, and Ann Jones, ex-'31, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Hollins entertained the Virginia Academy of Social Sciences at tea Friday in the Memorial Garden. The local committee in charge was Dr. Baird, Chairman, Miss Scott, Miss Havens and Mr. Turner. They were assisted by fifteen upperclassmen from the social science department.

ALUMNAE NOTES

Frances Thompson, '26, was married April 28th to Cyril Kenneth Collins in New York.

Doris Peeples, '20, was married April 16th to Robert Footman McAlpin of Savannah, Georgia.

Announcement is made of the recent marriage of Rhoda Howard, '27, to Samuel Garland Slaughter in Lynchburg.

Charlotte Elizabeth Reed, '27, was married April 15th to Scott Kennedy, Jr. The couple will make their home in Fort Worth, Texas.

The Triangle Chapter of Hollins Alumnae will entertain Wednesday, May 11th, in honor of the Senior Class. The tea is to be held at the home of Mrs. Clem D. Johnston (Alice Huff, '17).

The following Alumnae have already written the secretary that they will be on campus during Commencement: Marjorie Fort, '28; Sarah Middleton, '27; Virginia Rath, '24; Mrs. Ruggles Nelson (May Ellyson, '88); Mary Hinton Duke, '28; and Lillian Holliday Horsley.

Hollins Riders Win Many Blue Ribbons

Despite the rainy and disagreeable weather, the Hollins Horse Show, held April 30th, was an outstanding success and was well attended by many visitors. Members of the Hollins Riding Club not only gave excellent performances in their own classes, but came off with two blue ribbons in the outside classes, Kay Schmidt, winning the outside walk, trot and canter, and Mary-Anne Dannenbaum taking top honors in the outside road hack.

The following is a list of the winners in each class:

CAMPUS CRUMBS

We're having lots of weather!

Anna Boyce seems to believe in the old saying "Take up thy bed, and walk."

What does one say when one is writing a "Campus Crumb" for the first time? Hold your hats! We're off!

Did Shoupie take up baseball just in case—but anyway we hope she liked her "fleurs" because she surely can heave rocks.

Almost in answer to the article "Why, Professor, You Flunked!" came the recent tests. Now, professor, on the sly, just how much did you know?

The Freshman stylist wonders why the Seniors' caps and gowns aren't cut down to fit the figure. Yards of material do impede one's stride.

Swing with your date in the Forest, wade with him in the garden, but do not become enmeshed in a tennis net. At least so the social office decrees.

Woe upon us! Miss Locke, our ping-pong headliner is now an ardent disciple of Suengali. She asserts that her infallible method of hypnosis consists entirely of suggestion. We suggest that she try its infallibility on a certain professor.

Since gum-chewing has been banned from the library and is now an intramural sport, we wonder if the requisites for training are bathing suits worn on the cow pasture, and a heavy coat of tan—not to mention the unsightly masses of freckles gracing the noses of our enthusiastic Freshmen?

If the last lingering rays of the sun could have kissed each golden lock, scarcely could it have been more effective than the silvery mist clinging to each flying tendril. Oh, why didn't the gold of their hair meet the blue of the ribbon? Well, we're gentlemen—we prefer blonds, especially Tim and Barbara.

A certain teacher suggests that Hollins should install a labor union. Then the genteel young ladies could press a time clock when they commence to work and also when they stop. Perhaps in the end we will even have private stenographers to do our work for us. Miss Murphy, take this dictation, please!

The carnival in Roanoke called to many girls with gypsy hearts. The ferris wheel and merry-go-round still have attraction. Miss "T" even won a box of candy and—shh—a doll. Patsy Thayer because of her lucky numbers became the proud possessor of a baby bottle. But we can't find out who it is that claims to have been tattooed.

Class IX. Outside Road Hack.

1. Mary-Anne Dannenbaum riding High Boy.
2. C. O. Graves riding Jerry.
3. R. E. Hunt riding Lady High Hand.

Class X. Open to Army Officers. Walk, Trot, Canter.

1. Captain Rufus Fort, V. M. I. riding Nesbit.
2. First Lieutenant C. O. Graves riding High Boy.
3. Major James B. Walbach riding Lady High Hand.

Class XI. Outside Jumping.

1. R. E. Hunt riding Carrie.
2. R. E. Hunt riding Lady High Hand.
3. Mr. Akers riding Prince.
