An imposter, claiming to be the famous Bert Metzger, all-American guard at Notre Dame three years ago, visited the University of North Carolina campus recently and before being identified as a fake, was "wined and dined" by scores of admiring students. Mary Cornelie Hankins, who graduated every back in '32, is now teaching the sixth grade students at her local institution of learning. Like most girls, she had a store which she just had to tell. It seems that she told her pupils to write a theme on the subject, If I Should Not Smoke. The bright children unanimously wrote: "... be committed, it will not be a good teacher.

She is now going to give up the vile habit.

A brilliant Sophomore, proud native of the Blue Grass State, recently picked up the novel, Pride and Prejudice, and remarked, "Wasn't this book written about the settling of Kentucky?"

It seems to be quite the thing to have appendicitis now, and unless you can talk about the pain in your left side, you feel ostracized. Winnie Weaver is doing well. She has nothing to say concerning the bandanna incident, but she goes into raptures over the cutesy cramp caps which the nurses wear.

First Hall East reminds us of the famous crowd in Second Hall last year. Their latest activity is "water battle." But their tactics are unusual. They arise at 2:00 A.M. to sprinkle their unsuspecting sleeping neighbors. Nice girls!

College is having some effect on E. G. Brownie, it is said they had! They say that she is a good English student, but at the Odd-Even game it is reported that she threw the whole team into a panic. The hockey game. The se two-by-four hair ribbons seem to be all the rage.
