Dear Mildred:

As one of the Tribune Centre "family", we hope you will share our pleasure in announcing the publication of THE RIGHTS OF WOMEN, a copy of which has been sent to you under separate cover. Designed as a workbook, it is a compilation and summarized version of 44 selected United Nations, UNESCO and ILO conventions considered to be of special significance to women. It was prepared to assist groups involved in implementing paragraph 68 of the Programme of Action for the Second Half of the UN Decade for Women which states:

The necessary steps should be taken to ratify or accede to all international instruments of the United Nations and its specialized agencies that deal with women's rights...

In addition it is one of the Tribune Centre's efforts to work with women engaged in reviewing the activities of the UN Decade and planning for the decades ahead.

We would be pleased to send copies of the workbook to groups which you believe might find it useful (free by surface mail to Third World countries, $8 U.S. elsewhere) if you will send us the names and addresses. Any comments you may have about this publication, on substance, format or distribution will be most welcome.

We look forward to hearing from you in the near future and want again to thank you for your valuable contributions to the work of the Tribune Centre.

Sincerely yours,

Rosalind W. Harris
