APPENDIX B

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The 12-member Board of Directors, some of whom are involved on a daily basis in the work of the Centre, is an international group. Its composition augments IWTC's outreach into the Third World, the United Nations system, a variety of academic disciplines, and other non-governmental organizations.

EXECUTIVE OFFICERS:

Rosalind W. Harris, President: As President of the Conference of Non-Governmental Organizations in Consultative Status with the UN Economic and Social Council, Ms. Harris initiated the organization of the non-governmental meetings held in connection with the World Population Conference, the International Women's Year Conference and the Human Settlements (HABITAT) Conference. Formerly on the Executive Committee of International Social Service (ISS), and President of ISS/American Branch, she has been active in developing social services for individuals and families with problems created by inter-country migration. She is the author of a Ford Foundation study on international funding for projects of special benefit to women.

Rose Catchings, Treasurer: As Executive Secretary for the Ministry of Women and Children, World Division, United Methodist Church of the USA, Ms. Catchings has worked extensively with church members and community developers in the U.S. and abroad on human assistance programmes, administering a large budget of church funds. Her work involves extensive consultation with women in the developing world. Ms. Catchings is also active in Black American affairs, the YWCA of the USA, and the World YWCA Council. She is a trustee of Bennett College, North Carolina.

Pilan Petigura, Secretary: (See Staff bio-data)

BOARD MEMBERS

Noreen Clark: Dr. Clark is Associate Professor of Health Behavior and Health Education at the University of Michigan School of Public Health. Formerly Director of Public Health Education, Columbia School of Public Health, Dr. Clark has developed and conducted programmes in non-formal education in the U.S., Africa, and Asia. She is a specialist in, and author of works on project design and evaluation.
