Apple Blossom Princess

Miss Clare N. Stone, of Roanoke, has been selected to represent Hollins at the annual Apple Blossom Festival in Westchester. The Festival this year will be held "March 15th to 19th," that is, for five days. She is the daughter of the Belgian Ambassador to the United States, and the United Nations. The coronation is to take place on Wednesday, May 13th.

Hollins Represented at Southeastern Conference

INTERATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB MEET IN ATLANTA

At the Southeastern Conference on International Relations, held in Atlanta, jointly at Agnes Scott and Emory Colleges, the four leading students from Hollins represented the college as follows: Margaret Stone Turner and Margaret Weed as delegates, with Dr. Marti as faculty advisor.

The two chief speakers for the occasion were Dr. Henry Ames, former director of the League of Nations, and Dr. Ernest Minor Paterson, President of the American Academy of Political and Social Science.

Legislative Board Presents Report

PENTICTON PETITIONS FOR THE COMING YEAR

The action of this year's Legislative Board was presented by Miss Blair, in Convocation Wednesday, April 19th. Petitions granted included the use of the House, provost's room, for debates; all the rules and from that vantage point reach higher than any rules. That, said Miss Blair, "is our problem. We must learn our history as we have. We must not waste our time trying for something we have seen yet if we have not been through.

The driving petitions were rejected because it was felt that the present regulations had not yet been on trial long enough. The privilege of having dates in Keller was rejected since Keller belongs to the girls as a whole. The petition for doing away with the "Primo" light and Keller regulations for the second semester was rejected because it was felt more needed was needed for the tryout before this regulation. The petition for the use of radios during dances was granted lest the use of radios aggravate the roommate problem and disturb the general quiet.

Hollins Debaters Win Over W. & M.

Hollins again won the annual freshman debate with William and Mary, which was held in the Chapel on Friday, March 29th, at 8:00 P.M. This was the third consecutive victory for the Hollins debaters. The main topic was debated: "Resolved: That modern advertising is detrimental to the best interests of the American public." Miss Sewell and Harriet Ann Jackson, who represented Hollins, argued the affirmative side of the question, while the negative side was presented by Frances Moreland and Mary Frances McClanahan, of William and Mary. The results were very close, but the final score gave the affirmative side the victory by a margin of one vote.

One unusual feature of the debate was the critique given by Mr. Palmer, president of the debating fraternity at William and Mary, illustrating the points on which the grading was based and read the individual and team scores.

Seniors Entertained by President cockpit

The Senior Class was entertained by President Patty Cook at a reception Association held at the President's home on April 27th. The President's home wore a festive aspect for this occasion which, in its gracious informality, is one of the most anticipated social functions of the school year for the Seniors. Refreshments were served and pleasant conversation made the evening one to be remembered by all those who attended. Of particular interest to Hollins, the various members of the College staff were kind and friendly toward interest around among the guests.

The event is open to all students, and tickets are available at the Student Center. Make sure to mark your calendars and don’t miss out on this fun-filled weekend!

NORMAN THOMAS PRADES COLLEGE PEACE PLEDGES

At this time when lines of national and racial justice are we in the world, a proposal by American youth following similar careers in many other parts of the world is the subject of the action of the student body. Norman Thomas, Boycott leader, is a special recent writer to the President. On the Student's Peace Pledge issue, Mr. Thomas emphasizes the pledge 600 was being endorsed in hundreds of American colleges and schools. A boycott is an important means toward correct social order without the use of military force.

The pledge is based on the International Declaration of Human Rights by the United Nations. Mr. Thomas believes that the pledge should be judged in the light of two essentials: First, will the general adoption of this pledge by young men of the generation which may help one new wave make the world of such a race less? And, secondly, is such a pledge consistent with the individual's duty to society and the world?

PLAY DAY PLANNED FOR JEFFERSON HIGH

An added feature of the intramural sports program this season is a challenge from the faculty to play the winners of the inter-dormitory championships in volleyball, desk tennis and horseshoes. These games are scheduled for next month and will be played after the inter-dormitory champions have been determined.

Arrangements have been made with the Blue Hills Golf Club for Hollins students to play golf there any morning or afternoon except Sunday for a small fee of fifty cents per person. Transportation will be furnished at any time for parties of at least four, or a maximum of six. The names of those wishing to play should be registered in the social office before eleven o'clock on the day they desire to go.

Plans are now under way for a Play Day, to be given at Hollins, Saturday, May 20th, for Jefferson High School in Roanoke. This Play Day will consist of a varied program of activities in all sports, as well as a hike to the cabin. It will be sponsored by the Athletic Board, with Eleanor Webb as Chairman.

Participation in spring sports this season has been good, with much interest being shown in athletics. The following is a list of the various sports, together with the number of girls out for each:

- Archery: 21
- Baseball: 35
- Swimming: 28
- Tennis: 13
- Track: 18
- Intramural Sports: 71

All the meets and tournaments will be held next month. The dates for them are as follows:

- Archery Meet: May 11th
- Swimming Meet: May 12th
- Baseball Game: May 13th
- Track Meet: May 16th

The finals in tennis and intramural sports will be played during the week of May 8th.
