Professor Rath Presents Pupils in Spring Concert

VOICE STUDENTS GIVE SEPARATE RECITAL

The Spring concert this year was held Friday evening, May twelfth, in the chapel, and was given by students of the classes of Mr. Rath. Organ and piano numbers appeared surprisingly on the program. Skillful interpretation and execution of these numbers made this concert of especial interest to the audience. The program was very well balanced, including compositions of many representative composers, from Haydn to MacDowell. The Choral Club added the finishing touch by singing three numbers under the direction of Miss Egolf. The complete program was as follows:

Piano:
1. (b) "In San Marco" from "Scene Veneta." Yuen, Yee Chin. Ormandy
Orchestral Parts on the Organ
2. Prelude, from First Suite, MacDowell
Eleanor Charity
Organ:
3. Prelude and Fugue, E minor-Bach
Elisabeth Ellis
Piano:
4. (a) "(The Nightingale)." Liszt
Spaatz
5. "Two Elsies." Chopin
Elmira Waterhouse
Organ:
6. Allegro Vivace and Adagio from "Watermusic." Handel
Tondt; O. F. and Ilse; Foreman
Elizabeth Rowlett
Piano:
7. "Scarlatti." Moody Dalton
8. "Czerny." Dohkay
Evelyn Woody
Piano:
9. Second Concerto (First Movement). MacDowell
10. Non Coxe Smith
Orchestral Parts on the Organ
Chorus:
11. "Dedication." Stretas
Compositions The Band's Farewell-HiIscak Under the direction of Virginia Egolf

Miss Parmenter Receives Ph. D.

Johns Hopkins has recently accepted the thesis of Miss Mary Parmenter, who studied there during the first semester, while teaching at Goucher College. The thesis was started in 1930 under Dr. Greenlaw, now of Johns Hopkins. Since Dr. Greenlaw's death, however, Miss Parmenter has been working on it alone. The title of it is entitled, "Colin Clout and Hobbeina: A recomposition of the relationship between Edmund Spenser and Gabriel Harvey," and involves a historical and literary study of The Shepherd's Calendar. It is considered one of the most original and thoughtful papers published in several years.

In June Miss Parmenter will take examinations given by the English Department and Johns Hopkins for her doctor's degree.

Last Senior Forum of the Class of '33

Seriousness mingled with a sweet address when the Seniors gathered at 7:00 last Thursday night in the Green Drawing-Room. The evening opened with a display of flowers, and the soft, gauzy dresses blown by the March wind were a foil of this form of the present Senior Class. Hannah Reeves, Vice President of the Class, served as chairman of the meeting, and Elizabeth Dawson, assisted by Mary Macom, Marjorie Spinks, Margaret Adkins, Dorothy Spencer, and Natalie Smith, acted as hostesses. The guests for the evening were Dr. Allen H. C. Smith, President of the Alumni Association, Mrs. Reeves, Secretary of the Alumni Association, Miss Reynolds, Dorothy Spencer, and Ada Davis, the Presi dent and Vice President of the rising Junior Class.

The subject of discussion was the transition that the Seniors had undergone as Holins Seniors into the much wider plane of Holins Alumni. After the Chair man had opened the discussion, Page Rudd, President of the Senior Class, summarized the needs confronting the graduates. First, she said, after leaving Holins College proper, they must secure entrance into the world they planned to enter, the Alumni Association. The order should express interest in the society, though it be a sentimental one, a parting one. (Continued on Page 2, Column 5)

Council Members for the New Year are Installed

Athletic Board announces New Policy

APPOINTMENTS MADE

Believing that the athletics on campus are over-organized and that there are too many activities taking place at once, the Athletic Board has announced the following changes for next year: Where some sports have hitherto had organized seasons in the spring and fall there will now be only one organized season. Sports for which there has been no demand will not be sponsored. There will be no requirement of proof of participation in individual sports. The new policy as applied is: Hockey and basketball and baseball will not be changed; archery and tennis, organized class teams in the fall, class swimming in the spring. Individual tennis tournament will be held in the spring and the individual swimming meet in the fall. Organized bikes will be held only in the fall for the benefit of new students. Track and gymnastics will be eliminated. Intramural sports will consist of golf in the fall and deck tennis in the spring. A student may participate in as many forms of sport as she wishes, the responsibility for arranging her time being in the discretion of the individual. Scholastic eligibility rules require that each girl shall have full attendance. A bill the changes have been made in the hope that they will conform the fine standard of athletics at the same time increase the interest in participation.

New Chairmen

Hockey, Eleanor Webb; Basketball, Adria Kellogg; Tennis, Anna Hemphill; Archery, Margaret Hauser; Baseball, Ruth Wright; Baseball, Jane Moon—assistant, Abby Castle; Archery, Ada Ral wis—assistant, Louis Loomis. Representative of the Class of '33. As near as possible of the members of the Class of '33 were chosen as chairman for the new policy. It was found necessary to appoint assistant chairmen in some cases. (Continued on Page 2, Column 3)

Seniors Win Meet for Fourth Time

ODDS DEFEAT EVENS IN BASEBALL

The inaugural meeting of the Senior and Junior teams held on Friday, May thirteenth, was won for the Senior time by the Class of 1933. The Juniors took second place, with third place going to the Freshmen. Interclasse honor, was won by Adria Kellogg, first; "Jerry" Garber, second, and Margaretti Harwell, third. The results of the matches were: 30-yard Breast Stroke-Kellogg, Dinwiddie, Harwell—time: 16; 18; 20. 40-yard Breast Stroke-Kinsey, Harwell, Larmour—time: 52.5; 52; 54. 20-yard Crawl-Biggs, Little Theatre—time: 23; 24; 25. 40-yard Crawl-Clay, Kellogg, Dinwiddie—time: 45.5; 45; 46. 10-yard Dive-Harwell, Kellogg, Dinwiddie—time: 5.5; 6; 6. 20-yard Crawl-Perkins—time: 11; 12; 13.

In seven innings the Odds defeated the Even baseball team by a score of 4-2. The Odds claimed their third in the first inning and held it throughout the game. The pitching of Captain Locke was the outstanding performance of the day. In tribute to the Evans, perhaps the stolen runs of Moon and Kellogg should be mentioned since they were the only ones scored. The infall work of the Odds was quick thereby confining the Evans to small base hits; the Evans were slow on their show and showed carelessness in the field. Mr. Cocke officiated as umpire.
FREEDOM IN ATHLETICS

The event included the ladies' Badminton and College Tennis competition for every active class sport. At a meeting earlier in the day, the girls were informed that their team would have to sign up for the competition. The team captains were the first to turn in their signed papers, followed by the rest of the team. The captain of the Badminton team said, "We are looking forward to the competition and hope to win." The tennis team captain added, "We are prepared to give our best and hope to come out on top." The event included both individual and team competitions, with prizes awarded to the winners.

STUDENT FORUM

STAYING FOR COMMISSION

Commissioned officers of the United States Army have to go through a rigorous process of training and education in order to be eligible for promotion. This process includes not only academic study but also practical experience in various aspects of military life. The students in the forum discussed the challenges and rewards of this process, as well as the importance of maintaining a balance between personal and professional life. They also shared their experiences and insights on how to stay motivated and focused during this critical period.

DINING ROOM SNOW

Having only occasional snow can present the dining room with more situations than a snowstorm. From snowmelt to snowfall, the dining room staff must be prepared to accommodate these situations. This forum discussed the strategies and techniques for handling snow in the dining room, including how to maintain a comfortable and safe environment for students and staff. The forum also covered the importance of communication and collaboration between the dining room staff and other departments to ensure a smooth and efficient operation.

STOP MURDERS MRS. POLLOCK

"Mrs. Pollock, I was afraid you might not be able to join us today. Are you all right?"

"Yes, thank you for asking. I am fine."

"I understand. It can be challenging to balance work and family, especially during the winter months."

"Absolutely. It can be tough, but I try to make time for my family."

"I appreciate that. You are an inspiration. Thank you for your time today."

Peyton University Celebrates May Day

After numerous announcements and unavoidable delays, Peyton University, at 4:15 Monday afternoon, entertained an expectant crowd of students, faculty, and outsiders with its annual May Day pageant. Scenes of willow branches preceded the royal carriage of the queen, Betty Neil. Greeted by May Day songs of the choral club and choir, the pageant, "The Queen of the Willows" proceeded to its heights. The scene opened with the Duke's page, none other than Albert, warily searching for his Lord (and Albert we didn't know you were such a singer). While the page was lamenting his disarray over the fact that he is unable to fulfill his Lord's wishes, a little peasant girl entered upon the scene. The page agreed, as well as did the spectators, that she was exactly fitted for the throne. The page, in a most curiously manner, lent his assistance to the queen-to-be in arranging her royal train, and escorted her, you, literally lifted her, to the throne. At this point the Duke, Leslie, entered and at once voced his approval of his loyal page's selection. There, under the willow tree, the coronation took place and the large crowd of spectators paid homage to the beauty and charm of her Royal Highness by laying willow boughs at her feet.
