Alumni Advisory Council Will Convene Next Week

FOURTH MEETING

The Alumni Advisory Council held its fourth meeting in the Alumni Room on Thursday, March 10th. The meeting was called to order by President William M. Randolph, who presented the minutes of the last meeting. The minutes were approved by all present. Next on the agenda were the reports of various committees. The Finance Committee reported a balanced budget for the upcoming fiscal year. The Nominating Committee presented a slate of officers for the next term. The by-laws committee reported that their work was progressing and would be presented at the next meeting. The council also discussed plans for the upcoming alumni weekend and decided to hold a farewell party for retiring members.

Petitions Presented to Legislative Committee

The legislative committee received several petitions during the meeting. One petition requested the establishment of a new examination center on campus. Another petition asked for the creation of a new student organization. The committee agreed to consider these petitions further and make a recommendation to the full council at the next meeting.

"King Nutcracker" to be Given Wednesday

Dr. Colfert, in charge of the Wednesday evening program, announced that "King Nutcracker" will be given on Wednesday evening. The play, which is a modern version of the classic Christmas tale, is being presented by the university’s drama department. It promises to be a delightful evening of entertainment for all who attend.

Dr. Colfert attends A.P.S.A. Conference

Several members of the council expressed their interest in attending the American Political Science Association conference. Dr. Colfert, who is a member of the association, volunteered to attend on behalf of the council. He will report back on the conference and share any insights or new ideas that were discussed.

Many Universities Send Representatives

Dr. Colfert is expected to receive a warm welcome at the conference, as many universities have already sent representatives to attend. The council hopes that this will be an opportunity to strengthen ties and exchange ideas with other institutions.

Mr. Cracken to Speak

Dr. Colfert also announced that Mr. Cracken, a well-known political consultant, will be a featured speaker at the conference. Mr. Cracken is expected to deliver a keynote address on the future of political campaigns and the role of technology in modern politics.

Vocational Guide Shelf is Placed in Library

A new vocational guide shelf has been placed in the library. The shelf is filled with a variety of resources, including books, pamphlets, and other materials designed to help students explore different career paths. The council hopes that this new resource will be well received and utilized by students.

Dr. Heaney Speaks on "Poetry and the Century of Progress"

Dr. Heaney's lecture on "Poetry and the Century of Progress" was held on February 14th. The lecture focused on the evolution of poetry over the past century, with particular attention to the works of modern poets such as T.S. Eliot and W.H. Auden. Dr. Heaney discussed the ways in which these poets have influenced the development of contemporary poetry, and how their work continues to shape the literary landscape today.

New Junior Class Elections Held

The new junior class elections were held on February 15th. The election process was open to all junior students, and candidates were selected through a combination of self-nomination and nomination by their peers. The new class officers will take office on March 1st.

New System of Prizes Invented

The college has introduced a new system of prizes for academic excellence. Students who achieve high grades in their courses will be eligible for prizes, with the amount of the prize based on the student's GPA and the course's level of difficulty. This new system is designed to encourage students to strive for academic excellence and to recognize their achievements.

How to be lovelier!...
NEGRO SELLS VALUABLE OLD MELODIES

Through a colored washwoman, Mr. Turner has acquired for Hollins an old melodious which dates back to the colonial period. The woman, a musician, purchased the instrument from a fellow-countryman in New York, where she lives. Mr. Turner has received the instrument and, evidently, finding it of particular use to it, the woman has been sent a letter of gratitude for her generosity. Mr. Turner is interested in antique instruments.

This melodious is more than a piece of music history—it is an object of great interest to students of music and useful for reference work, they will be of service to those who choose to study it.

College Library Receives Works of Stephen Foster

Foster Hall recently presented a collection of Stephen Foster's complete works. Believing Stephen Foster to be America's greatest composer, Foster Hall has prepared and sent to the libraries received the original sets. At present, however, these sets may be considered completed.

Each reproduction is in the form of the original copy. Books being of great interest to students of music and useful for reference work, they will be useful also for determining first edition authenticators.

The class basketball season is in full swing with the Seniors leading the race as a result of their victory over the Sophomores. The Freshman teams look pretty evenly matched and unless we've score greater than the race for the cup will be fast and furious. As this is so, all the teams certainly need support, and all of you, YU fans, don't think that just because some of your friends are going down you aren't doing better. You have never played on a team you can never realize how much it means to have the fans that should be present on the sidelines cheering for you, and the more the merrier.

The Juniors have a basketball squad this year instead of a team. This is because, according to Captain Louise King, the Juniors are all about the same. The Juniors are
