Freshman Debaters Tie with William and Mary

Helen Martin and Sarah Sanders upheld the affirmative side of the debate against the two freshman debaters of William and Mary College, Monday night, April 30th. Grace Korb and nections with these two universities, he is Florence Allen argued the negative side the author and editor of several books, of the question which was "Resolved: That conscientious objectors should be exempted from military service." The debate was held in Great Hall of the Christopher Wren building in Williamsburg, Virginia.

The method of decision was unique. Before the debate each member of the audience was requested to write the name of the side he favored. At the end of the debate each member of the audience again Horse Show on Saturday, April 28th, wrote on the ballot the name of the side which he then favored. The debaters who succeeded in changing the majority of ments were met-thanks to the Hollins minds, according to this procedure, won appetites-which entitled the Board to the decision. In this case, however, the the full proceeds from the supper. We all result was a tie.

This was the fourth in a series of annual debates between Hollins and William and show them our appreciation by backing Mary. The three previous debates were them up in any improvements or additions won by Hollins.

Sitler Elected President Va. Academy of Science

COX AND McGINNIS ALSO HONORED

At the meeting of the Virginia Academy of Science which was held at Harrisonburg State Teacher's College, May 4th and 5th, Miss Sitler, who was Chairman of the Zoölogy division this year, was elected President of the Academy for next year. Miss Cox was chosen Secretary of the Astronomy, Mathematics and Physics division and Dr. McGinnis, Chairman of the Psychology division.

Many interesting and instructive papers were given in all divisions of Science. Dr. Speidel, who is doing some of the best research in Medical Science in the State, showed slides of the growth of muscle tissue. The research done at the University of Virginia on non-habit forming drugs to replace morphine was also presented at this meeting. Of special interest to the Hollins' group was the paper given by Marguerite Harwell, '33, entitled "A Study of an Imperfect Grating." This is the first paper to be presented at the Academy by a Hollins'

Those attending the Academy meeting from Hollins were: Miss Sitler, Miss Farnsworth, Miss Cox, Miss Fillinger, Miss Sneider, Mrs. McGinnis, Alethea Patrick and Virginia Dinwiddie.

Metcalf, Thompson Will be Speakers

In the commencement speakers Hollins is fortunate in renewing the acquaintance Mr. and Mrs. Urner visited Charlotte of Dr. John Metcalf and Dr. Taliaferro Thompson. Former addresses by Dr. Metcalf and Dr. Thompson have been greatly enjoyed by Hollins' audiences.

Dr. Thompson, who will deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon, is prominent not only in the Southern Presbyterian Church but also throughout the entire East. He' is generally recognized as one of the out standing religious educators of the State, and his delightful personality makes him an ever welcome speaker.

Dr. Metcalf, Dean of the Graduate School at The University of Virginia, will make the commencement address. Before becoming affiliated with The University of Virginia, Dr. Metcalf was professor of English and Dean at The University of Richmond. Besides his valuable conand is a widely known speaker.

New Council Installed in Convocation Service

NEW AND OLD PRESIDENTS SPEAK

The installation of the new officers of the Student Council took place at the Convocation on Wednesday, May 2nd. After the minutes were read by Harriet Ann Jackson, secretary for 1933-34, Mildred Raynolds in a short address turned over her duties to Susannah Turner, the new president. Miss Raynolds, as a last word, emphasized the fact that Student Government rests entirely on the students and it is up to each one individually to do her part in making it last. Miss Turner then gave her speech. In it she stressed the individual's responsibility in Student Government, emphasizing its opportunities. "Student Government," she said "is not for the Council alone to share in. We are only your representatives and Student Government belongs to you. It is for your good, and no matter who is on Council, Student Government is in your hands entirely." Miss Turner stated that some judicial body was needed of course; "but yours is a responsibility which we can never assume for you; yours the responsibility and privilege of our Honor System and of our Self-Government." She also emphasized the Honor System, not as the foot, trot, and canter. First, Buddy (Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

I., "Our Hobby The Commencement play, Shake- Hughes' "Dolly Ann," and Gardner Mundy's "Coleman," in the show. A great deal of good horsemanship was displayed, showing a marked improvement in comparison with the previous shows.

The show was comprised of fourteen classes. The Fourteenth Class was the outstanding event. It was the competition of ten girls from the Hollins Riding Club for the championship cup. All horses were drawn by lot, and were put through the gaits of walk, trot, canter, and jumping. The competitors were judged on "hands and seat," general management and control of the horse. It was an unusual and fitting climax for the program. Some Petitions go to the Administration

MANY PASSED

Dr. E. Marion Smith, Chairman of The Hollins College Riding Club held the Legislative Committee, presented in Convocation the Legislative Committee's report on the student petitions. This The five-hour program was viewed with report was received with favorable much interest and many thrills by a large comment by the student body. Some petitions have been referred to the Administration, but the following have definitely been passed and approved by President Randolph.

Roanoke girls, living in the dormitories, using the daily register, may drive unchaperoned in Roanoke with permission of their parents.

Freshmen will now be allowed five nights a semester instead of two week-ends a semester, and these nights may be taken at their own discretion after the first eight

Sophomores will now be allowed eight nights a semester, exclusive of the weekend between semesters, instead of three week-ends.

Juniors and Seniors will now be allowed to remain in Roanoke on Saturday and Sunday nights with Special Permission, provided they are back on campus by 10:30 P. M.

Rule 13b in the Handbook will now read: "When attending other than college dances, a student is chaperoned by some one approved by the hostess in whose home she is visiting."

Students will be allowed to drive without Special Permission with members of the faculty or their parents during

There will be smoking in Keller from 7:45 A. M. to 10:00 P. M.

That such sports as golf and tennis be allowed on Sunday.

That the nine o'clock chapel after holidays be done away with, and the girls have the privilege of returning to the College only in time for their classes if they so desire.

That upperclassmen be allowed unlimited cuts.

That a new system of grading be installed in which the reports to the students would signify "failing," "passing," or "honors," thus eliminating the present system of definite marks.

That professors be permitted to substitute some research project for an examination, if such seems more valuable.

That students in advanced courses be allowed a reading period before the ten day examination period, excluding students in elementary or required courses. If the professor finds the course incomplete when the reading period begins, she may assign some further work to be completed by the end of the reading period.

The petition that the student body be allowed to wear socks on campus was also referred to the Administration for consideration. The sense of the Legislative Committee was taken, however, regarding
