Miss Randolph Announces Faculty Changes for Year

Miss Leslie Blanchard is Dean for Coming Year

NEW INSTRUCTORS

Miss Randolph, in convocation recently, announced changes in the Faculty which will go in to effect next year.

Miss Hearsey will resume her position as Professor of English. The new dean will be Miss Leslie Blanchard. Miss Blanchard, a graduate of Leland Stanford University, received her M. A. at the University of Chicago and is now writing her Thesis for her Ph. D., at Columbia University, in the Philosophy of Education. Miss Blanchard has had interesting teaching experience at the University of Chicago and elsewhere. Miss Blanchard will be Dean and Associate Professor, teaching a semester course in Principles of Education.

As Associate Professor of Art we will have Mrs. Gladys Brannigan. Mrs. Brannigan received her B. A. and M. A. at George Washington University. She has also studied at the Corcoran Art School, National Academy of Design, and Art Students League. Her oil and water colors have been displayed in important exhibitions and have taken many prizes. Mrs. Brannigan will teach all applied art as well as theory and principles of design and a semester course in history of painting. Mr. Peck will teach most of the history and appreciation of art.

Our new librarian will be Miss Jeanette Foster. Miss Foster was formerly a member of the English department here but left to specialize in library work and has had experience in various colleges. This year she receives her Ph. D. in Library Science from the University of Chicago and will return to Hollins as Head Librarian.

We are sorry Mrs. McGinnis is leaving the Chemistry department. Miss Eleanor Bartholomew of Lincoln, Nebraska, will take her place as instructor of Chemistry. Miss Bartholomew received her B. A. and M. A. at the University of Nebraska and her Ph. D. at the University of Chicago. She has recently been teaching at Green Briar College in West Virginia.

We look forward with interest and pleasure to working with the new members of our faculty next year.

What the Funkhouser Award Means to Hollins

The Funkhouser Award, an annual prize of fifty dollars to the most outstanding member of either the Junior or Senior Class, will be given, according to custom, at the Commencement exercises.

This award, although only several years old, is already among the permanent things of Hollins. Each year as another student becomes the recipient, it becomes a more vital part of Hollins and the honor connected with the award increases.

The student who receives the award is determined by votes from the student body and the decision of a faculty committee. The student represents what these persons consider the best that Hollins stands for. Although a great many of these qualities are intangible, there are some definite points which are a basis of the final decision.

In the first place the student should stand high scholastically, with a real inter-

Athletic Board Adopts New Monogram System

EIGHT STUDENTS GIVEN NEW MONOGRAMS

As a result of the vote taken on campus earlier in the year, it was found that the Monogram Club was wanted back on campus. In view of this fact, the Athletic Board sent out questionnaires to 26 colleges. These questionnaires showed that Hollins is the only one of its type that does not have a system of awards. Furthermore, at the Athletic Conference in Greensboro, North Carolina, several of the representatives highly recommended that Hollins should again have an award system. Therefore, the Athletic Board has decided to readopt such a system on this campus. The basis for this system is not on skill alone, but on participation, provided interest is shown. The following requirement plan has been adopted by the Athletic Board:

CHEVRONS:

- 3 participations
- 1 class team or equivalent

MONOGRAM:

- 5 participations
- 4 class teams or equivalent
- Varsity or equivalent or
- 9 participations

PIN:

- 10 participations
- 3 varsities or equivalent service

CLASS TEAM OR EQUIVALENT:

- Basket ball
- Hockey
- Participation in dance program
- Winner of archery tournament
- Winner of golf tournament
- Blue ribbon in Horse Show
- Red or Yellow ribbons in championship class

- Substitutes on 2 class teams.

VARSITY OR EQUIVALENT:

- Hockey, basket ball
- Winner of tennis
- Winner of swimming Championship cup
- Participation in dance program and membership
- 2 of the following:

 - Archery

Those who have attained the requirements and are members are: Nannie Broadwater, Betty Lane, Dickie Richardson, Lelia Berkeley, Patty Smith, Lib Williams, Emily Laffoon, Margaret Winfree.

These names were announced last Tuesday night in the Student Government meeting. The name of Patty Smith was not read and the Athletic Association apologizes to Miss Smith and wishes to congratulate her on becoming a member.

Also in the meeting Tuesday night the interclass cup was awarded to the Seniors for winning the most athletic contests. The tennis cup was awarded to Ann Hemphill, winner of the tennis tournament, and Betty Archer received the golf trophy for winning the golf tournament.

Miss Maddrey Entertains for the Group Leaders

SUPPER PARTY IS GIVEN IN Y. W. ROOM

Miss Maddrey was hostess at a supper in the Y. W. C. A. room for the group leaders for the coming year. These students were gathered to discuss plans for orientation and Student Government instruction of the Freshmen next year. The discussion was led by Florence Shelley, President of the Student Government for 1935-36. Special emphasis was laid upon the importance of impressing upon the Freshmen not only the letter but the spirit of every law. Stress was also laid upon the necessity of a complete understanding of the pledge before the students would be asked to sign it. In order to facilitate this understanding, it was decided that the group leaders should tell the Freshmen something about the pledge when they write to them in the summer. It was also decided that since the group leaders should take this responsibility it would not be necessary for the president of the Student Body to write to the Freshmen during the summer. The group then discussed plans for a more active House Committee and also plans for making the separate houses more of a unit. The question of what to do with the condition on back campus since smoking was allowed there was also discussed.

Miss Hearsey then spoke to the group. She congratulated them on having the honor of being in such a group and then advised them as to their responsibilities for next year. Miss Hearsey mentioned three things which she thought were essential in informing the Freshmen. First, the students themselves. The characteristics which should be sought by each student are honesty, thoughtfulness, loyalty, courage and tact. The second thing is the Student Government Association. This is a heritage which the students must carry on and they must try to keep it of as high a standard as those before have

Plans for Next Year Discussed by Y. W.

On the week-end of May 11, the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, the Freshman Commission and Miss Chevraux, as chaperon, hiked up to the cabin. The party left as soon as the May Day celebration was over and came back Sunday afternoon in time for supper. Miss Maddrey went up on Sunday morning and spent the day. The trip combined two important functions, a glorious time and a business meeting. A short devotional service opened the meeting, and then the remainder of the time was devoted to planning the Y. W. C. A. program for next year. All members were anxious to elect a Faculty Advisor to be particularly interested in the Y. W. C. A. activities. We are delighted that Miss Maddrey has agreed to accept the position for the coming year. As usual, two delegates will be sent to the Y. W. C. A. Conference at Blue Ridge, North Carolina, from June 11-20. Elizabeth Lee and Catherine Wright will represent Hollins at the coming session. On Monday night, May 20, the installation of the new Y. W. C. A. officers took place at the chapel service.

Seniors Trace Growth of Hollins in Past Years

CLASS PRESENTS GIFTS

On the morning of June 10, the Class of 1935 held their Class Day exercises. The school and the guests on campus assembled outside of the library and quietly awaited the arrival of the Seniors. Led by Miss Mary Anna Nettleton, their Class President, they approached from the far side of the garden singing their familiar song, "We are the Seniors." The school joined them in singing, "Hollins, Temple of Our Hearts."

In telling of some of the developments during their four years at Hollins, Miss Nettleton compared their life to "a lovely fabric—ever growing—into which have been woven the dreams of many generations of Hollins girls." During their Freshman year, through the vision and unselfishness of the Coker family, the college was transferred to a public board of trustees. The next year Hollins was recognized by the Southern Association of Colleges. As Juniors, they saw the installation of Miss Randolph as President. This year Hollins was admitted to the American Association of Universities. There have been changes in the curriculum and plans for still further advancement in academic work. Also this year the United States Post Office was installed. Though new threads have been added to the fabric, the old spirit has been preserved. "In parting I would remind you in the words of Victor Hugo that 'life is for giving not taking,' and the vow which the Bishop asked of Jean Valjean, I also ask of you... 'Promise me that you will give.'" The Seniors rounded out this part of the program by singing "Learning."

Several people were presented with gifts—Miss Matty, Miss Randolph, Miss Hearsey and Miss Blair, the class sponsor. The gift which they left to the school was a silver coffee urn.

To Miss Kathryn Lavinder, President of the Class of 1936, Miss Nettleton said, "There is a place for high ideals and my fondest wish for you is that your every dream for the Class of 1936 and for Hollins may come true."

The Seniors sang the beautiful new song which was written by Miss Susanna Turner. They were answered by a song from the school, written by Miss Louise Tompkins.

As they disappeared around the library the Seniors were singing "Now our ships put out upon the sea," thus closing the Class Day exercises.

Last Cotillion Given in Honor of Seniors

The Cotillion Club had its last dance of the season on Saturday night, June 1. The dance was given in honor of the Seniors. Keller was decorated simply in white and the dancers danced to the tunes of Locklayer and his orchestra. The dance began at five-thirty and the "stags" stood around anxiously awaiting the arrival of the "belles" who arrived quite soon after five-thirty. There was a senior no-break after which the seniors and their dates received favors. There were paper caps in the favors and the heads of the Seniors donned with the many colored caps added quite a bit to the gaiety of the

A DEDICATION

To the Seniors of the Class of 1935 the Staff wishes to dedicate this, our final issue of the STUDENT LIFE. It would be impossible for us to pay an adequate tribute to the fine contributions you have made to Hollins. With material gifts you have promoted the welfare of the school, but in less tangible ways you have left a deeper and more lasting impression here. Only the memory and knowledge of your services can give you the proper reward, and that Hollins will offer you.

NEW IDEAS

Campus organizations are now making their plans for the next college session. Many schemes and plans will be thought of during the summer vacation and they will be put into effect next year. Before these plans are completed, the organizations must consider how their ideas will fit in with the entire plan. Will they make the year's program crowded and bring distractions for the sake of "putting something on" and filling every minute of our time, or will they honestly enrich our college life?

Many organizations and committees or positions have been combined this year in order to give more of a unity to the various organizations on campus. This is a very wise step for it not only cuts down on expenses, but gives more life to the existing activities.

During the summer more ways will be thought of for consolidating and integrating our Campus life and making it more efficient and more of a unity. Remember these ideas and bring them back ready for use in the fall. Let college be the source book for your ideas.

STUDENT FORUM

FAREWELL, SENIORS!

Commencement is usually a sad occasion, when classmates part, and another group of young women leave the kindly protection of Alma Mater to venture forth on brand-new sheepskin wings. To face a world as confused as that of to-day must, we undergraduates feel, require steadfast courage and unwavering faith. And we, here safely provided for, wonder how these Seniors feel who are leaving us. We can only guess.

However, we do know our own feelings, and wish to express them in this, the Seniors' STUDENT LIFE. Throughout their four years the present Seniors have done more for Hollins than almost any other class. They have worked unceasingly for better work and play conditions; they have acted as a medium for us and the administration. It has ever been their aim to help the College in every way, and they have succeeded remarkably well. Their help has been not only material, but something far greater. They have been inspiring leaders as well as excellent scholars. A class with more spirit has rarely graduated from any college. The Seniors have been splendid examples of sportsmanship and work, and they have shown us the lofty ideals of Hollins.

Knowing their fine character, both as a class and as individuals, we are confident that they will maintain their high standards wherever they go. And we hope that they will not stay away, but will return often to visit us. We can assure them of a hearty welcome!

And so, with the Sophomores, we are proud to say

*"Towards the goal that you've set for us
With all our hearts we will strive,
We thank you for your ideals,
Class of Nineteen Thirty-Five!"*

Florence Shelley will visit Marilou at Winston-Salem and Myrtle Beach following Commencement.

Frances Peace will entertain a group of Juniors at Pamley's Island next week. Those in the party are: Jane Botts, Lelia Berkeley, Berkeley Moore, Frances Willis, Judge Wellington, Elizabeth Matthews, E. G. Brown, and Elizabeth Cloughton.

Carol Faulkner, Bill Robinson, Winnie Weaver, Ann Kimmons, Louise King, Jodie Taylor, Gus McCoy, Leelia Reynolds, and Jerry Welch will spend a week at Myrtle Beach after Commencement.

Miss Virginia Winfree and Helen Wade visited Muggs Winfree this week-end.

Adria Kellogg was on campus this week-end.

Susanna Jones and Eleanor Waterhouse are visiting in Roanoke and have been out to Hollins several times.

Miss Lucy Duke, from Richmond, was on campus last week-end.

Mrs. J. N. Weeks was here Saturday and returned to Winston-Salem after the play.

Katherine Lavinder and Louise Tompkins attended the dance at W. and L. Thursday night. Katie will go to the dance at V. M. I. to-night and Louise will go to the V. P. I. dance.

Others who are attending final dances at various colleges are: Tish Nelson, Phebe McClaugherty, Rosalie Bates, E. G. Brown, Beth Miller, Caroline Saunders, Judy Bond, Joyce Smith, Helen Sue Trinkle, Lydia Burgess, Lib Williams and Frances Willis.

The Seniors, as everyone knows, of course, are very, very wise. However, it took them four years to obtain that wisdom. As a proof we have collected some of their witticisms from the Campus Crumbs of the past four years.

Their Freshman Year, 1931-32

We understand there's a Freshman on campus who thought the study of graphs had something to do with zepelins.

Did you know there is a Freshman who talks to a "farmer boy" on the 'phone. We hear he is enamoured of her. Doubtless her slow steadiness is restful. Hey, Sara!

We may take this opportunity to tell Anna Boyce that the stairs at Hollins are not escalators and to please stop considering them as such on her many flying trips.

(Of interest to S. G.) Well, that second floor East crowd managed to get rooms together in Main. Ho, hum! We are still having lots of weather.

As Sophomores, 1932-33

A new rage for peroxidized hair has started. Picture Abby Castle in that condition.

Abby Castle broke down and had her eyebrows plucked at Boots Beauty Parlor. We found out in our best Winchell-like method that she was anticipating a date with a dashing soap salesman. Don't let him soft-soap you, Abby.

There was a fair maiden named Fletcher, And all of the boys tried to ketcher, But she was too shy, And from them did fly, With many a loud scream, I belcher.

It seems quite the thing to have appendicitis now, and unless you can talk about the pains in your right side, you feel ostracized. Winnie Weaver is doing well. She has nothing to say concerning the handsome internes, but she goes into rapture over the cute organdy caps which the nurses wear.

Petersburg, Virginia; Anne Elizabeth Phillips, '33, Montclair, New Jersey; Bettina Rollins, '33, Newport, New Hampshire; Page Rudd, '33, Bon Air, Virginia; Natalie Smith, '33, Abingdon, Virginia; Margaret Weed, '33, Jacksonville, Florida; Caroline Stanley, ex-'33, Washington, D. C.; Dorothy Donovan, '34, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Sarah Gillian, '34, Lynchburg, Virginia; Jane Moon, '34, Yardley, Pennsylvania; Helen Stephenson, '34, Petersburg, Virginia; Emmy Lou Wilson, ex-'35, Clarion, Pennsylvania, and Anna Boyce Rankin, ex-'35, Charlotte, North Carolina.

Poor Hamilton has such a hard life! As she says, "When I eat a lot, I'm so unhappy."

Kimmons and Worsley make good delivery "boys." On Easter Sunday they arose at the stroke of six in order to take care of the presentation of flowers, but—ha! ha!—the flowers didn't start to arrive until eight o'clock. However, they breathed a lot of the early morning Virginia climate.

Anne Taylor's announcement that the firm of "A. Taylor, Inc." would hang May Baskets at the rate of ten cents per basket caused a furor in the Sophomore meeting. But Taylor's business was slashed to a nub when Racketeer A. Rinehart McCoy shouted, "I'll hang 'em for a nickel!"

Anne Kimmons certainly has an eye for business. The other day we heard her ask, "King, when are you going to pay me that twenty cents I owe you?"

Abby's "Cosy Cottage for Two" has introduced a new system of blue slips on third floor Main. Sign early. "Parents' permissions must be in seventy-two hours ahead, girls."

When Intelligent Juniors, 1933-34

"Oh, for a pair of false teeth," cried one Junior when a professor told her to bite firmly on the studies she must pursue. "You know, it's funny you never see the Federal flag," remarked another Junior when she was shown a Confederate flag.

"We're Not Afraid of the Big Bad Rats," squeaked the Juniors on the top of Tinker, but wait until Carol hears one tiny mouselet in the room and then it is too bad for Bill's beauty sleep!

Gus, feeling intellectual, was bidding friend roommate good-night in French, Spanish, German, and Italian. Coming to the end of her repertoire, she asked: "Jodie, what is good-night in Chinese?" and Josephine's resourceful reply was, "Clankety Clank."

New Year's Resolutions

M. HAMILTON: "To surround Third Hall East with sound-proof walls."

A. KIMMONS: Censored.

A. CASTLE: To stay in bed until Mary Anna gets up and closes the windows.

M. A. NETTLETON: To be an epicurean. Jean Sayford said she enjoyed the poem of Paul Whiteman that Dr. Smith read to us. Incidentally, Walt Whitman was the author—and they teach Lit to some people!

Jim Dinwiddie, having forgotten to sign out for a week-end, remarked, horrified, "What'll I do? I've forgotten my pink slip." "Oh, that's all right," Kitty answered, "I'll lend you my evening one."

As Wise Old Seniors, 1934-35

Everyone was down in Keller taking Nell for a ride because Peter was recently elected the "greatest lover" at V. P. I. "Well, why not?" came back Nell. "Do you think I want to train him?"

Judging from her seminar report, Jody doesn't think so much of the younger generation. Instead of talking about the "infant mortality" rate, she calmly called it the "infant morality" rate. Tsk! Tsk!

And remember when Hamy turned over in her sleep with such force that it sent her bed across the floor till it hit the bureau which in turn knocked over the lamp which fell in the waste paper basket.

Judging from this survey you've got to admit that they're a pretty witty class. In fact Campus Crumbs will miss them terribly next year and wishes them a "crummy" good time.

P. S. Did you hear that the International Relations Club spent a busy week collecting money for a present for Anton Lang's baby which was expected to arrive soon and the baby turned out to be twins! That's all right, I. R. C., it was a nice thought anyway.

A. D. A. Elects Peace as New President

At a recent jamboree, ye ancient, dignified, and witty organization of A. D. A. elected its officers for next year. The "officers" consist of Frances Peace, President and ringleader, and the rest of the members are anything they want to be. This prevents disappointment, a system which has its points and is to be recommended. May we have bigger and better stunts and "stunters" next year.

Bringing up the rear of the figure were Susanna and Hamilton both dressed as "stags." The guests would still like to know which was the "boy" and which was his date. Favors were given after the no-break which followed the figure. The girls received bouquets and the "boys" other favors. Carol Faulkner, the retiring President of the Cotillion Club, received a lovely corsage of gardenias. At seven o'clock dinner was served on the back porch.

WHAT THE FUNKHOUSER AWARD MEANS TO HOLLINS

(Continued from Page 1, Column 1) est in study. She should be respected and liked by her fellow students. She should have taken part in campus activities, and she must have given a genuine contribution to Hollins life by her presence here.

Perhaps her personality, the most intangible of all things to judge, is the greatest determining factor. That is the reason why the Funkhouser Award can never be, as many other such prizes, something to be definitely worked for. It will always stand as an encouragement along the way for those girls trying to develop their own individuality according to the highest ideals they hold. It stands, then, not only as a reward for achievement but as a recognition of an individual in the making. This is why every graduation and each year contribute more and more to the distinction of winning this prize.

The student body cast its vote last week. It is waiting expectantly for the final decision. Past students who have received the award are: Eleanor Wilson, Elizabeth Trenbath, Leonora Alexander, Rosamond Larmour and Mildred Raynolds.

MISS MADDREY ENTERTAINS FOR THE GROUP LEADERS

(Continued from Page 1, Column 4) kept it in the past and have dreamed it to be in the future. The third thing is the College itself. The College is responsible for the students. It also, however, has the responsibility of carrying on its heritage which was handed down by the founder and Miss Matty. It is through the students that their dreams can be fulfilled, for they are Hollins.
