2-11-1938

Hollins Student Life (1938 Feb 11)

Hollins College

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.hollins.edu/newspapers

Part of the Higher Education Commons, Journalism Studies Commons, Social History Commons, United States History Commons, and the Women's History Commons

Recommended Citation

https://digitalcommons.hollins.edu/newspapers/109

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Hollins Student Newspapers at Hollins Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Hollins Student Newspapers by an authorized administrator of Hollins Digital Commons. For more information, please contact kenkeltg@hollins.edu.
Senator Gerald Nye Will Be Speaker at A. A. U. W. Dinner

Students May Purchase Tickets for Speech

Valentine Bridge Party Will Be Gay Affair

Alumnae Are Speakers at Chemical Society

Kathleen Jackson Responds to Congressional Legislation

How Do You Like My New Garb?

Speaks to Hollins Forum on Four Recent Acts

Dilaudid, a new drug that is used for pain relief, has been prescribed for use in patients who need continuous pain management, such as those with terminal illnesses. It is important to understand that dilaudid is a Schedule II controlled substance and should only be obtained from a licensed healthcare professional, as it can be addictive and lead to drug abuse. The use of dilaudid requires careful monitoring to ensure that it is being used safely and effectively. It is important to consult with a healthcare provider before using any medication, especially if you have a history of drug abuse. The use of dilaudid should be avoided by anyone who has been diagnosed with a substance abuse disorder, as it can cause serious health problems. The use of dilaudid should also be avoided by pregnant women and those who are breastfeeding, as it can be harmful to the fetus or the newborn. If you are considering using dilaudid, it is important to speak with your healthcare provider to ensure that it is the right choice for you and to understand the risks and benefits associated with its use.
Moral Values Taught by Children's Theatre

CHARACTER OF ACTORS

During the two-week series of performances of "Little Women" by the Children's Theatre at the Roanoke Civic Center, the players demonstrated an understanding of the moral values they were teaching the audience. The actors, selected from the city's public and private schools, brought to life the characters of Jo, Meg, Beth, and Amy, and their struggles with issues such as honesty, courage, and perseverance.

The actors, dressed in period costumes, vividly depicted the lives of the March sisters during the Civil War era. They portrayed the joys and sorrows of childhood, as well as the challenges faced by young women in the 19th century. The show was directed by Mrs. Alice Parham, who is also the director of the Children's Theatre.

The audience was captivated by the actors' performances, which were praised for their accuracy and emotional depth. The actors' ability to convey the complexities of their roles was particularly impressive, as they portrayed both the light-hearted moments and the darker realities of the March family's experiences.

In conclusion, the Children's Theatre's production of "Little Women" was a感人 and educational experience for all who attended. It demonstrated the power of theatre to teach important values to a new generation of actors and audiences alike.

Under the Dome

SPORT SLANTS

Casually Smart
By Beverly Craig

This week's edition of Casually Smart features a profile of a local athlete who has achieved significant success in her chosen sport. In this installment, we meet Miss L. M. S. Porter, the talented and hard-working student athlete who has earned the respect of her peers and coaches alike.

Miss Porter is a shining example of the dedication and hard work required to excel in sports. She is a member of the school's track team and has consistently shown an outstanding level of performance. Her dedication to her sport is evident in her daily training routine, which includes hours of practice and conditioning.

Despite the challenges she faces, Miss Porter remains focused on her goals and continues to work hard to improve her skills. Her perseverance and determination are truly inspiring, and she serves as an excellent role model for young athletes everywhere.

The Children's Theatre's production of "Little Women" was a感人 and educational experience for all who attended. It demonstrated the power of theatre to teach important values to a new generation of actors and audiences alike.
KINDLER ADVOCATES STUDY OF MUSIC

the War of Roses, because who cares about that anyway." His nose turned up in disdain.

We withdrew on the strength of that and left him to the autograph hounds, but not before we had gotten a real and brand new insight into music and into Mr. Hans Kindler. Music, in Mr. Kindler's eyes, is something of infinite importance. When he speaks of it, his eyes light up and his voice softens. He makes one feel that music is the finest privilege accorded us as mere mortals. He makes one wish to know more about music, to have more contact with it, and to learn to understand it in the way he does. He lifts music from the category of a class or study to a living, pulsating, uplifting experience. One might say the same of a conversation with Hans Kindler.

TWO NEW STUDENTS JOIN STAFF OF STUDENT LIFE

Freshmen and other new students interested in trying out for the Student Life staff are asked to submit a feature article on any subject so that the editors may get a line on how well they write. The first issue in March will be gotten out by the freshmen class. Anyone interested in trying out for the freshman staff should see Mary Ellen Gerber.

ALUMNAE ARE SPEAKERS AT CHEMICAL SOCIETY

All of these girls were members of the Curie Chemical Society while students at Hollins and were thus able to talk in a way particularly valuable to you needn't bother about a table.

VALENTINE BRIDGE PARTY WILL BE GAY AFFAIR

All of the recent scares in universities are closely allied with the work of the above organization and the Woman's International League for Peace and Freedom. These organizations are depending on Senator Nye now for important legislation work in their interests.

SENATOR NYE TO SPEAK AT A. A. U. W. DINNER

the Honorable Jeannette Rankin, his first in this line, gave him recognition as a peace worker. Since heading the committee for this investigation, he has been closely allied with the work of the above organization and the Woman's International League for Peace and Freedom. These organizations are depending on Senator Nye now for important legislation work in their interests.

MORAL VALUES TAUGHT BY CHILDREN'S THEATRE

is still much to be done in this field. Children live these plays so deeply and are so sensitive to the characters and situations within them that such an influence is a must to help them through the medium of the stage. One never leaves an audience when working with children especially exactly as they found them. Young people become so completely absorbed in the play they are watching that they cannot help but reflect in life the attitudes they have seen and admired on the stage. Mrs. Major has built her children's theatre to help the American youth get started in the right direction.

SPRING WEATHER BRINGS ON ATHLETIC OUTBURSTS

...they light the way to MORE PLEASURE