Ticket prices for this unique performance will be 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for students.

Marge Howard New President of ‘38-39 Riding Club

Miss Marjorie Howard, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a member of the junior class, was elected president of the Riding Club at a meeting held in the third hall, Monday evening, October 8. Miss Howard has been riding since her freshman year when she became a member of the club. Through hard work and constant practice, Miss Howard is one of the club’s better riders and is also an excellent student.

At the opening meeting of the Riding Club, President Howard said: "The Riding Club is really just a place where we can enjoy ourselves and it is a great pleasure to be a part of it." She also added that the club is open to all students who are interested in riding.

Miss Howard will serve as president for the year and is looking forward to a successful season.
With one hand on the harp, the other raised to the chin, a young girl sat upon a stool in the center of the room. Her fingers moved gracefully over the strings, creating a melody that filled the air. The audience, comprising of various ages and backgrounds, listened in rapt attention. The light从 their eyes shone with joy and wonder as the girl played on.

As the performance came to an end, the room erupted in applause. People stood up to give accolades, but the girl remained seated, bowing modestly to the cheers. The applause continued unabated, and the girl's smile widened with each ripple of sound. Finally, she stood up, taking a bow in front of the cheering crowd.

A n d we all know that the weather is not always cooperative. It can be a challenge to plan outdoor activities like sports games or events, especially when you're trying to balance the needs of different teams or groups. Here are some tips to help you navigate the rules and regulations for outdoor activities, whether you're organizing a pickup soccer game or planning a community fair.

1. Check the Weather Forecast: Before making any plans, check the weather forecast for your area to ensure that the conditions are suitable for the activity you have in mind. Be sure to consider factors such as temperature, precipitation, and wind.

2. Communication: Keep all participants informed about any changes or cancellations. This can be done through email, text messages, or social media.

3. Flexibility: Be prepared to adapt your plans if the weather changes. This may mean rescheduling the event or finding an alternative location.

4. Safety First: Ensure that all participants are aware of the safety concerns associated with outdoor activities and take necessary precautions, such as wearing appropriate clothing and using safety equipment.

5. Insurance: Consider purchasing insurance to protect against any potential liabilities that may arise from outdoor activities.

6. Permits: Check if any permits are required for the activity you are planning, especially if it involves public spaces or facilities.

7. Alternative Plan: Have a backup plan in case the weather does not cooperate. This could be an indoor alternative or a plan for a smaller group if the main event is too large.

8. Equipment: Make sure that all necessary equipment is available and in good condition for outdoor activities.

9. Social Distancing: Consider implementing social distancing measures if you are planning a large gathering or event.

10. Compliance: Ensure that all activities comply with local regulations and guidelines.

Short Change and Exchange

How to win at Bridge:
1. Pick up your cards as dealt. You will be ready to bid ahead of the others.
2. If your hand is rotten, mention it. It will guide your partner in his bid and play.
3. If your partner bids first, don't hesitate to raise. He has to play it.
4. Never hurry. Try several cards on a trick until you are sure which one you prefer.
5. Occasionally ask what is trumps. It will show you are interested in the game.
6. Don't show lack of interest when you are dummy. Help your partner out with suggestions.
7. Walk around the table when you are dummy and look at the other hands. Tell them what cards are good and how many tricks they can take if they play right.
8. Talk about other subjects during the game. It makes for good fellowship.
9. Feel free to criticize your partner. He will do much better as a result.
10. Always trump your partner's tricks. Never take a chance.
11. Don't try to remember the rules. It is confusing.
12. If it is a money game, always step when you are ahead. It will have a lasting impression and folks will remember you.
13. Always explain your plays, particularly when set. It shows you acquired knowledge.

Coronet Club Adds Group of New Members to Roll

At the opening meeting of the Coronet Club, plans were made for the first cotillion which will be held on October 29 from 4:30 until 6:30. A Halloween scheme will be carried out in the decorations. During the cotillion an elimination dance will be held. The couple who dances the most gracefully and performs the most intricate steps will, of course, win the cup.

A new group of members was also added to the list of old members at this meeting. Those who were asked to join are: Dee Alexander, Mary Bland Armistead, Jane Gaulke, Beth Ettinger, Janet Harris, Frances Lunsford, Paige Martin, Tillie Mayo, Caroline McCleskey, Freddie Metcalf, Thadman Mingus, Kenney O'Farrell, Martha Pasco, Barbara Radd, Bunch Saunders, Ann Trumble, Frances and Margot Vaughan and Emily Waddell.

Active Year in Music Promised by Betty Smith

On Friday afternoon, September 30, the Music Board gave a tea for the freshmen members of the Music Association and the music faculty. Miss Betty Smith, the president of the Association, presented to the group the rules of the organization as written in the constitution. She also explained the differences between members who have voting power and the associate members, who do not have the power to vote. The former are majors in applied music, while the others either elect applied music or take music theory courses. Miss Carolyn Stephens then told them of the Carnegie Music Library containing a great many records which they may use at any time that they wish. She also took two selections from this library on the Victrola. They included a Capriccio, by Brahms, and The Garden Under the Rain, by Delius. At the conclusion of the recitals, the members of the Board served tea.

The first meeting of the Music Association was held Monday night, October 3. At this meeting, Miss Smith told the organization of their plans to have an organist for the concert which will probably be held some time in February. As yet no plans have been made as to whom they will have for this program. She also added that there were a number of Hollins song books to be sold and they are now on sale in the book store. It is their idea to have a book for every student government meeting, we are going to sing a new song rather than the one that we have been accustomed to singing up until this time.
