Play

the story of this little people that several traveling groups were formation. We have the pleasure of welcoming a group of these players to our camp.

Every year through the generosity of the family and students, about two hundred and fifty underprivileged children in this country can see one of these excellent children's plays. Hollins will be given Thursday, October 10 at 8:00 p.m. Everyone should try to come and if you cannot, give your money to the Y. W. C. A. and send a friend.

Senior Class Plans

Successful Year

Soon to Commence Work

on Senior Stunts

This year's Senior Class, the Class of '21, is an excited group of children, in the eighteenth year of its existence. All the members have the task of selling the Senior Class Stunts. The Class plans to have a wonderful year, and they are looking forward to the Senior Class Plans.

Campus Awaits

Tinker Day

Some day in October, Mr. Cocke will walk into the dining room at breakfast grinning (from ear to ear and shout, "Tinker Day!"

The idea of a "Tinker Day!" is a familiar one to the Hollins students. The students have already begun their songs practices. The girls, raking their brains for "killer"-different, the laughing at their own jokes and wonder if everyone else will think they are funny. It is rumored that the faculty student will be even better than the last year.

There is no wonder the campus is in an uproar. Imagine the triangle ringling, while everyone rushes madly around trying to remember why they were in such a rush. Can't you hear Bunch shouting that it came on the one day in the week she had her boys on and Nanette is laughing, "I knew it was going to be to-day. That's the reason I didn't study for that test." It is rumored that Stu John is mad because he also missed his hope to introduce new ideas and improvements, not only in the work of their own class, but throughout the school.

One of the first problems that faced the class was whether or not the seniors should wear caps and gowns to chapel on Sunday nights. After some discussion the majority of the class voted the measure in, since they felt that the caps and gowns lent a more formal atmosphere to the service. Another tradition that the seniors have revived is that of singing, in the quinta every week, the songs that have been handed down from senior class to senior class for innumerable years.

Already the whole school has started looking forward to the senior stunts, and the seniors haven't forgotten their either. On October 9th they will hold a senior forum to discuss them—and to produce some original ideas! Good luck to them!

One of the more serious tasks of the Senior Class this year is that of emphasizing quietness in the chapel and they sincerely hope that the whole school will cooperate with them in carrying out this task. So let's all try and remember it tomorrow night.

Seven Hundred Children

Coming to See Heidi

The story Heidi has been chosen by the Claire Tree Major Players as the topic for their annual play to soon be given here at Hollins. Most of us are familiar with the story of this little Swiss girl and the play promises to be as interesting as the book.

Mrs. Major is an actress who saw the widespread need for a children's theater to give younger people interesting plays at moderate prices. Her experiment was started in New York where is so popular that several traveling groups were soon formed. We have the pleasure of welcoming a group of these players to our camp.

The friend who gave this counsel on August 14 is President Roosevelt. Whether or not the boys approve the whole of his policy, they know that he has prime responsibility for directing the national defense and they may be sure he will not be sidetracked by the $75,000 young men now in American colleges. Convocations Held for New Students

The first convocation for new students was held last Thursday, September 29, at 5 o'clock in Presser Hall. At this time Miss Frances Wallace, resident head of the freshmen building, spoke on "The Importance of Good Study Habits." The last two classes have been scheduled with a possibility of a fourth. The first of these will be conducted by Mr. Robert Hanes, professor of English at Hollins College. Miss Turner, who is president of the Hollins Alumni Association, made a short address to the new students.

Miss Dianna Tinker, head of the organization of A.D.A., will hold the second convocation on October 6. The third convocation will take place in Presser Hall on Friday, October 11 at 5 o'clock. At this time, Miss Maltby will discuss the social regulations with the new students.

Each of these convocations has been arranged by Dean Smith to help the new students make adjustments to college life more easily and efficiently.

Athletic Board Has

Party Saturday

A couple of huge fires will be blazing down behind the Forest of Arden Saturday night for a marshmallow roast sponsored by the Athletic Board. All students and faculty are invited to meet in the gym at nine o'clock and go from there to have hot chocolate and marshmallows on the shores of sketch Cove. Lots of hot chocolate and marshmallows are sure to arrive at this event.

"We've Been Working on the Railroad," and all the other songs that belong to a good-fashioined community singing. This marshmallow roast and community singing will be followed by a dance of the latest and greatest tunes. The Junior and Senior classes will be present for this event. Miss Randolph Speaks

"Canada and the War" will be presented to the interested audience of students by Miss Randolph. She will be giving her first formal address to the 1940-1941 student body of the Hollins College. The audience will be given a glimpse of the spirit of the people of Canada in their present war and also the part that this country will play in the determination of the axis powers. The audience will also learn of the importance of Canada in the present war and also the part that this country will play in the determination of the axis powers. Juniors to Picnic

With Little Sisters

Carrying on a custom which started by their own big sister class, the juniors will give a picnic supper on Tuesday, October 8th, in Happy Valley, for their new little sisters. If the weather permits, the party will begin at 4:45, and from all reports it promises to be lots of fun for everyone. The freshmen and juniors will dress up their shoes and slacks, take along a swan and swan, and strum along the lane which kids to this lovely spot. There will be munching on hamburgers and hot dogs and, perhaps, join in a community sing or go wading up and down the stream. Since it is only a short distance to the end, the picnic will be over in time for all to be back on campus for chapel that evening.

Most respectable night of the week was the Monday night when the little ladies met in the senior corner. That is to say, in our little corner until...

We don't mean to be getting on the old ladies but... perhaps we should. One of them was having her medical operation and the others were... well, just getting... you see... they are... they are...

Congratulations on your graduation! I'm excited to see what new opportunities are ahead for you. Please consider joining the alumni community and staying connected with your classmates and the university. Best wishes for your future endeavors.
"Why didn't I take time out this summer for sleeping?" That's what we all are wondering as we run up and down that hockey field, which seems even longer this year. Talking about hockey, it seems to be taking the highlight this year, with the freshmen doing more than their part in shining. They are one step ahead of the rest of us, they already have their team about lined up and are anxiously awaiting their first chance "to strut their stuff"—so beware, you upper classmen!

Virginia Martin is working hard to get up a sophomore team. Even though we lost two of our star players, Betsy Bath and Mary Shirley, we expect a good team, for there are many new prospects in view. I haven't seen the juniors on the run yet, but I hear they are right on that ball. With Bunny Robson, who spent a week up in hockey camp learning to be an even better player, and most of their last year's team, the juniors have high hopes. The seniors, however, are trying to make the best of their last hockey season. The magnetic personality of this game has attracted an entirely new bunch of seniors (that is, new as far as hockey is concerned). Among these newcomers are Lisa Lindsey, Betty Harmon, Cornelia Moore and Ellen Leech. With these "dark horses" the seniors might cause an upset in the hopes of the other classes.

"One never knows, does one?"

Take a hint from me—if you want to lose that five pounds you've put on, take up hockey. Running up and down that field is a sure means of leaving that extra drapery behind. Even the slowest of us can outrun a pound or two—so come on out and watch the pounds roll (not forgetting the ball, of course).

Hang On

Second to hockey, riding seems to be the next best. To add to the attracting elements, five new horses have been purchased—Faber Tar Boy, Highland Boy, Fimbo and Slipshard—all of which are supposed to be plenty good. I don't know whether it's because of the newness of these horses or because the old ones are getting frisky in their old age, but rumors are going around that quite a few riders have taken a topple (two even being members of the riding club). Besides these additions to the stable, a new paddock (a plain riding ring to most of us) has been built behind the stable. Quite inconvenient for us non-riders for now we'll have to walk all the way to catch a look at the beauties (and I mean horses).

DIGGING UP THE HOCKEY FIELD

Golf seems to be attracting many a newcomer as well as hockey. But we had better warn those tennis fans that they had better keep on their toes because we beginners are still playing on the hockey field. With Popey as their head the advanced students are progressing both in ability and enthusiasm—because they're even getting up early Sunday morning to play. More power to them!

LAST BUT NOT LEAST

Tennis and volley ball are not to be left out; they've done surprisingly well this fall. And then, too, the tea-house trotters are trotting at an even faster pace. Speaking of the tea-house, I need a "coke" so I'll be seeing you over there.

THE BOARD IS HARD AT WORK

The Athletic Board met just before we went to press and we certainly are all pepped up over the prospects for this season in all sports. All the managers seem very enthusiastic and it looks as if we have a great year ahead.

First of all, it has been decided to concentrate each sport into one tournament either in the spring or in the fall, rather than having two tournaments, as has been the custom. Golf and tennis, for example, will have their tournaments this fall. Also, the winners will be given due recognition. A golf medal will be given to the golf champion and a big new tennis cup will be started, the winner's name being printed on it each year.

The archery tournament and the swimming meet will be held in the spring. However, so that there'll be impetus to those old archers to get out and shoot their arrows, high scorer will be posted on the bulletin board each day. And the swimming pool and the cabin are both open for the season (at least, the cabin will be Sunday). So let's see more people down at the end of the campus come four in the afternoon.

Also, we hope we'll see you all at the marshmallow roast and community sing up in the "cow pasture" Saturday night. I'll be fun sitting around those big old fires eating and singing together. So come one and all!!!
