Under the Dome

Evidently the dome was not as beautiful as the publicity would have us believe. Now, I am not talking about the famous "Dome" with its great glass windows and grand view of the city, but the actual dome of the building itself, which is said to be a marvel of engineering and architecture.

The dome is a large, domed structure made of concrete and metal. It is supported by a series of columns that extend down into the ground. The inside of the dome is quite simple, with a smooth, white finish. The outside is painted a light blue color.

Despite its simplicity, the dome is quite impressive. It is a large structure, and it is definitely a focal point of the building. The dome is also quite sturdy, and it is able to withstand the weight of the snow and rain.

I think that the dome is a beautiful addition to the building, and it is a great example of modern architecture. I would highly recommend that you visit the building and take a look at the dome for yourself.

Student Body Buys Victrola

Yesterday afternoon, the student body purchased a Victrola, a type of record player, for the college. The Victrola was purchased with funds raised from a recent dance.

The Victrola will be used in the college's music department, and it will be a valuable addition to the college's music collection. The students are very excited about the purchase, and they are looking forward to using the Victrola in their classes.

The Victrola is a great example of the dedication of the college's students. They are always willing to work hard to raise money for the college and to improve its facilities. I am very proud of the student body, and I think that they should be commended for their hard work.

Choral Club Sings On Radio Monday

The Choral Club will be singing on the radio on Monday evening. The club will be performing a special set of songs, and I think that they will do a fantastic job.

The Choral Club has been working hard on this performance, and they have been practicing every day. I have heard some of their songs, and I think that they are going to be excellent.

I encourage all of you to tune in to the radio on Monday evening and listen to the Choral Club. It will be a wonderful experience, and I think that you will enjoy it.

Alumnie Discuss Careers for Girls

The Alumni Association is hosting a discussion about careers for girls. The discussion will be held on Friday evening, and I think that it will be a great opportunity for the students.

The discussion will be led by several alumni who have successful careers in various fields. They will be sharing their experiences and offering advice to the students.

I think that this is a wonderful opportunity for the students, and I encourage them to attend the discussion. It will be a great way for them to learn more about careers and to get some advice from people who have been in their shoes.

The discussion will be held in the auditorium, and it will begin at 7:00 pm. I look forward to seeing you there.

"Cargoes" Prints Freshman Work

The "Cargoes" printing press has printed a book of the freshman's work. The book contains the work of the students in the freshman class, and it is a great example of their hard work.

The students have been working hard on this project, and they have done an excellent job. I think that the book is a great example of the dedication of the students, and I am very proud of them.

I encourage all of you to take a look at the book. It is a wonderful example of the hard work and dedication of the students, and it is a great opportunity to see their work.
Hollins Club Formed at Thomas

Ex-students of Hollins College, who are at present in the third year of law, have organized a Hollins Club. They met for the first time under the third floor of the building on Monday evening, and espoused many of the club are friends there, and have subscribed to the Hollins Club. They hope to serve as the nucleus of a Hollins Club, and there are quite a number of ex-Hollins girls now at Texas.

Faculty Members Write on School Subjects

"Hollins Elrey," to be sung by the Choral Club at the Faculty Day banquet, is in true basket kind, Miss Mary Parmenter, Associate Professor of English, wrote the words, while Mr. Herbert Goodale, instructor in music, wrote the music. Mr. Goodale has fitted the rhythm of the music perfectly to the words. The music and the harmonious treatments has given musical color to each new phrase. The words are absolutely incomparable.

On a green hill, within a wall of quiet, when cedar shades serene, and green-

A goodly fellowship of faithful people able together to stand and sing.

And now they may sing.

By night the stars, by day the purple mountain's peak;

Mark out the seasons in their return.

They on the heights, in the guarded mosaic.

Keep watch together

What they knew, how

Red-Blue Tradition Began Before 1900

"You're a Red, You're a Blue"—so says Hollins newsom's been greeted for more than forty years. In 1897 more enthusiasm was felt for the Red-Blue tradition, and the year of the tradition, then to any other sport. Even the antheumolos, those aloud who had to study, found time to go down to the athletic field to see the interesting matches. On Thursday nights, the women's side was held at which time the Mohirons would gather at one end of the field to cheer on the Mohirons, and the other to support their players.

Today this tradition still exists. The farmers' side is decided, and the results have been replaced by tufties; the court is to be held each year, no matter what the weather of the rains. On March 5th once again we shall see the most important basketball game Fall at Hollins. This night there will be the Red-Blue bonfire at which time the winning team will be presented with the trophy.

Bedlam Reigns Supreme

While Gals Grab Grades

College girls are the ones who can be found going out from the beds at 3:00 a.m. before Halloween. The reason for this: Hollins girls have been known to start jokes that have been passed on from one girl to another for days on end. They have been known to continue these jokes, even after they have been arrested for breaking curfew.

There is much in the collection which will please those who find nothing wrong with traditional constructions and topics. The book is a delightful one, as it was written in a very simple style, and it was aimed at a general audience. The book is also an excellent study of the life of a summer of the present day, and how it can be applied to the life of today.

The collection is contrasted with and contains those works that are about the Hollins collection. In the beginning of the collection, there is a section about the Hollins collection, which is about the Hollins collection.

It is the story of a summer and how it can be applied to the life of today.
Bunce Paintings Shown in East

In the Y. W. C. A. room this week there was an exhibit of the work of Louis Bunce, a contemporary American artist new living and working in New York. The works that Hollins has on exhibition today are a modern school and show both subtle and pop-art influences.

In his pictures Mr. Bunce uses many canvases and shows various abstract bird forms. The artist uses various techniques such as oil, water colors, gouache and collage, in which paper forms are pasted over each other.

From the 18th to the 29th, there will be an exhibition of work by Hollins alumnae and students which has been especially arranged for Loopinger's Day. This exhibition will include some by Lucy Powell which will be interesting to students who knew her last year.

council undertakes recording problems

The last meeting of the Executive Council was devoted to the first of the unlimited plans of Council's policy for the year, a revision of the Recording System. It was felt that the classification of all officers on campus should be checked and studied for they require, organization, and work involved, in order to record each on a more careful basis.

The head of such organization has been asked to help by giving her opinions on problems such as the question of proper basis for recording, grade requirements and to give general reports of the organization andamp;#39; and also, a new and more accurate Recording System will be created to be put into effect next year.

New &quot;Purple&quot; Bring New Color to A. D. A.

The Gang Busters went to town last Tuesday night to A. D. A. took in two more side-hunters. The latest recruits were Viekie Vaughan, '42, and Virginia Martin, '43.

The two, after a triumphant entrance on Broadway,区块链 decided to try out for membership who will enter into the Coolidge Quartet around the campus, the Coolidge Quartet was a Rachmanoff-Hartmann Serenade, as requested to help by giving her opinions on all officers on campus should be checked and studied, for they require, organization, and work involved, in order to record each on a more careful basis.

hollins influences d. dix

We ran across the following letter in the file which was written to a Hollins repporter way back in '33. The letter is from a Hollins alumna who sent along a little sketch out of which you may lift some good discussion of A.D.A.'s men and student's which has been answered by Mr. Atkinson from the headquarters. This went on against the background of memorial dinners.

All in all, some new&quot;purple&quot; cracks originated and the rest of the school was highly entertained.

orchestra selects new members after try-outs

Orchestra has taken in ten new members. Among those initiated into the group are Mary Jean Campbell, Perry Jones, Mary Grace Leach, Dorothy Shaw, Larry Tucker, Joan McMullen, Mickey Payne, Betty Chinn and Elizabeth Collip. Many very good opportunities tried out for membership who will enter into the Coolidge Quartet and will be considered for membership in the dance group.

Orchestra is now working on various dance numbers they plan to present the first Thursday after Spring Vacation. Various techniques from modern dance techniques will be included in the program.
It is with great fear and trepidation that I take over this column and vainly try to keep in step with the grand job that India did all last fall. Since the last edition of the paper ball hall has been coming right along, and I do mean right along. Many weary hours of toil have not been spent in the gym in vain, and when basket ball presents itself to the public on Monday—meaning that’s when the games start—the world will recognize it. The teams were announced in Keller last week and with such people as Earle, P. Martin, Henn, Metcalfe, Trimble, Towers, Rodner, Peters, Elam, Hall, Dennett, Sicard, Blackburn, Day, Hart, Kunz, Goodwin, N. Thomas, McCurdy, Kreuger, Rigs, Campbell and Ryland there is bound to be plenty of good ball shining there will be just as much enjoyment bounci ng, basket making and whistle blowing. For those who will not be playing there will be just as much enjoyment in the games as for those who are on the floor running, tripping, intercepting and shooting. With the teams such as they are, we really cannot afford to miss one game. So come one, come all and buck your teams with lusty “rah, rah!” In other words, the theme song is “Hi Ho, come to the games.”

Skating for the Cabin

Saturday night was a good example of the old saying, “If at first you don’t succeed, try, try again.” For the great majority of us it was simply an evening of ups and downs (frankly, I’m practically rubbed of eyes to make sure · that it wasn’t fun, though—I mean the skating party. From the reports that were coming right along, and I do mean

Even team. The teams will leave Hollins at nine o’clock Saturday morning and will come back late that night.

The Tri-Sports Day originated last year with Hollins doing the honors. The plan began in order to foster good will and sportsmanship among the three schools, and has proved very successful.
