WORKING GROUP ON PROGRAMME FOR INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S YEAR COMPLETES WORK

The Working Group on the Draft Programme of Activities for International Women's Year, 1975, completed its work this evening by recommending to the Commission on the Status of Women a draft resolution calling for "intensified efforts and undertakings" by United Nations Member States in connexion with the observance.

The draft resolution, proposed by Greece and revised by the 15-member Group, will go to the full Commission later this week along with a draft programme for the Year approved by the Group this morning (see Press Release HR/1040).

The text approved this evening, drafted for eventual adoption by the Economic and Social Council, contains a request that the Secretary-General, to the extent possible, should co-ordinate the measures and activities undertaken in connexion with the Year by Member States, the United Nations, the specialized agencies, regional organizations and the national and international organizations concerned. He would also be asked to collect and disseminate information on activities contemplated or undertaken during the Year.

The Secretary-General would also be invited to facilitate the co-operation of regional intergovernmental organizations in the observance.

The Group agreed not to act on a proposal by France and Greece that the Secretary-General be authorized to accept voluntary contributions of funds for International Women's Year. This question was left open for consideration by the Commission.
